The man was shot as he struggled with Secret Service agents, officials said. A Uniformed Secret Service agent was also shot, and there were reports of other shots.

"We're all doing fine," said President Clinton, who was in surgery. "I've got a long way to go."

"I was in the line of fire," said Secret Service Director Louis W. Freeh. "I was trying to make him safe."

The president was shot in the left arm and was taken to George Washington University Hospital. He was "doing well," Freeh said.

"We didn't know what was going on," said Assistant Attorney General Robert Kennedy. "It was absolutely horrifying."

The shooting occurred at 4:20 p.m. as the president was returning to the White House after lunch with Vice President Al Gore. The White House was placed on lockdown, and it was unclear how many shots were fired. The suspected gunman was taken into custody.

The shooting was the first on a U.S. president since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963.

"We're all doing fine," said President Clinton, who was in surgery. "I've got a long way to go."
Kohl, Feingold on budget team
State’s Democratic senators help devise alternative to Republican plan
By Karen J. Cohen
Though they met late into the night, Wisconsin’s Democratic senators and key Republican aides didn’t seem to have a lot of trouble finding common ground on a $24 billion state budget.

Still, though there was little area from which the two sides might be able to move, there would be no easy solution. Kohl and Feingold both described their group as a team of ‘‘serious negotiators.’’

The Senate Republican plan, like the House GOP plan and supported by a bipartisan Senate Republican majority, would cut state spending by about $5.5 billion. The Governor’s plan, which included a $1.9 billion tax cut and other changes, was estimated to reduce spending only by $2 billion.

Kohl and Feingold’s budget plan would reduce state spending by about $10 billion, but it would do so by cutting state aid to counties, municipalities and schools, not by raising taxes.

Feingold said their budget plan would reduce about $500 million to $550 million in state income-tax revenue in fiscal years 1996-97 and 1997-98. He said they would finance the reductions by closing or eliminating some tax loopholes, by reducing the business-tax credit that gives a tax break to large firms and by shifting some of the state’s aid to local governments.

At the same time, Republicans are looking at cutting back the earned-income-tax credit for low-income families and possibly raising the sales-tax rate, which would increase state revenue. Feingold said that in the final plan, both sides would have to give up some ground and make compromises.

The two sides were working closely together. The conference committee’s ‘‘blue-ribbon’’ approach to the budget is a stark contrast to the political atmospherics that often accompany budget negotiations in Madison. Kohl said: ‘‘Let’s share the blame. Let’s share the credit.”

ADVERTISING

On page 6 of the SJP American TV preview, there are some ads for the three local TV stations—FOX 11, NBC, and CBS—plus a few for the new cable access stations. The ads are all designed to showcase the variety of programming available on each channel. The “Street” feature is a mix of local and national news, and the “News” section includes coverage of the bicentennial events.

The “Sports” section is dedicated to the Milwaukee Brewers, with a special feature on their upcoming game against the Chicago White Sox. The “Entertainment” section highlights the new movie releases in the area, including the new film adaptation of “The Da Vinci Code.” The “Music” section features reviews of the latest albums from local bands, while the “Books” section includes interviews with local authors. The “Theme Park” section features attraction reviews from the area. The “Restaurants” section includes reviews of the best spots for dinner and breakfast, while the “Shops” section features deals and discounts from local retailers. The “Travel” section includes travel tips and recommendations for the area. Finally, the “Weather” section includes the latest weather conditions and forecasts for the area.

OP 5/22 tx p v a . 6/3/96

AdVERTISING

On page 6 of the SJP American TV preview, there are some ads for the three local TV stations—FOX 11, NBC, and CBS—plus a few for the new cable access stations. The ads are all designed to showcase the variety of programming available on each channel. The “Street” feature is a mix of local and national news, and the “News” section includes coverage of the bicentennial events.

The “Sports” section is dedicated to the Milwaukee Brewers, with a special feature on their upcoming game against the Chicago White Sox. The “Entertainment” section highlights the new movie releases in the area, including the new film adaptation of “The Da Vinci Code.” The “Music” section features reviews of the latest albums from local bands, while the “Books” section includes interviews with local authors. The “Theme Park” section features attraction reviews from the area. The “Restaurants” section includes reviews of the best spots for dinner and breakfast, while the “Shops” section features deals and discounts from local retailers. The “Travel” section includes travel tips and recommendations for the area. Finally, the “Weather” section includes the latest weather conditions and forecasts for the area.

ADVERTISING

On page 6 of the SJP American TV preview, there are some ads for the three local TV stations—FOX 11, NBC, and CBS—plus a few for the new cable access stations. The ads are all designed to showcase the variety of programming available on each channel. The “Street” feature is a mix of local and national news, and the “News” section includes coverage of the bicentennial events.

The “Sports” section is dedicated to the Milwaukee Brewers, with a special feature on their upcoming game against the Chicago White Sox. The “Entertainment” section highlights the new movie releases in the area, including the new film adaptation of “The Da Vinci Code.” The “Music” section features reviews of the latest albums from local bands, while the “Books” section includes interviews with local authors. The “Theme Park” section features attraction reviews from the area. The “Restaurants” section includes reviews of the best spots for dinner and breakfast, while the “Shops” section features deals and discounts from local retailers. The “Travel” section includes travel tips and recommendations for the area. Finally, the “Weather” section includes the latest weather conditions and forecasts for the area.

ADVERTISING

On page 6 of the SJP American TV preview, there are some ads for the three local TV stations—FOX 11, NBC, and CBS—plus a few for the new cable access stations. The ads are all designed to showcase the variety of programming available on each channel. The “Street” feature is a mix of local and national news, and the “News” section includes coverage of the bicentennial events.

The “Sports” section is dedicated to the Milwaukee Brewers, with a special feature on their upcoming game against the Chicago White Sox. The “Entertainment” section highlights the new movie releases in the area, including the new film adaptation of “The Da Vinci Code.” The “Music” section features reviews of the latest albums from local bands, while the “Books” section includes interviews with local authors. The “Theme Park” section features attraction reviews from the area. The “Restaurants” section includes reviews of the best spots for dinner and breakfast, while the “Shops” section features deals and discounts from local retailers. The “Travel” section includes travel tips and recommendations for the area. Finally, the “Weather” section includes the latest weather conditions and forecasts for the area.

ADVERTISING

On page 6 of the SJP American TV preview, there are some ads for the three local TV stations—FOX 11, NBC, and CBS—plus a few for the new cable access stations. The ads are all designed to showcase the variety of programming available on each channel. The “Street” feature is a mix of local and national news, and the “News” section includes coverage of the bicentennial events.

The “Sports” section is dedicated to the Milwaukee Brewers, with a special feature on their upcoming game against the Chicago White Sox. The “Entertainment” section highlights the new movie releases in the area, including the new film adaptation of “The Da Vinci Code.” The “Music” section features reviews of the latest albums from local bands, while the “Books” section includes interviews with local authors. The “Theme Park” section features attraction reviews from the area. The “Restaurants” section includes reviews of the best spots for dinner and breakfast, while the “Shops” section features deals and discounts from local retailers. The “Travel” section includes travel tips and recommendations for the area. Finally, the “Weather” section includes the latest weather conditions and forecasts for the area.

ADVERTISING

On page 6 of the SJP American TV preview, there are some ads for the three local TV stations—FOX 11, NBC, and CBS—plus a few for the new cable access stations. The ads are all designed to showcase the variety of programming available on each channel. The “Street” feature is a mix of local and national news, and the “News” section includes coverage of the bicentennial events.

The “Sports” section is dedicated to the Milwaukee Brewers, with a special feature on their upcoming game against the Chicago White Sox. The “Entertainment” section highlights the new movie releases in the area, including the new film adaptation of “The Da Vinci Code.” The “Music” section features reviews of the latest albums from local bands, while the “Books” section includes interviews with local authors. The “Theme Park” section features attraction reviews from the area. The “Restaurants” section includes reviews of the best spots for dinner and breakfast, while the “Shops” section features deals and discounts from local retailers. The “Travel” section includes travel tips and recommendations for the area. Finally, the “Weather” section includes the latest weather conditions and forecasts for the area.

ADVERTISING

On page 6 of the SJP American TV preview, there are some ads for the three local TV stations—FOX 11, NBC, and CBS—plus a few for the new cable access stations. The ads are all designed to showcase the variety of programming available on each channel. The “Street” feature is a mix of local and national news, and the “News” section includes coverage of the bicentennial events.

The “Sports” section is dedicated to the Milwaukee Brewers, with a special feature on their upcoming game against the Chicago White Sox. The “Entertainment” section highlights the new movie releases in the area, including the new film adaptation of “The Da Vinci Code.” The “Music” section features reviews of the latest albums from local bands, while the “Books” section includes interviews with local authors. The “Theme Park” section features attraction reviews from the area. The “Restaurants” section includes reviews of the best spots for dinner and breakfast, while the “Shops” section features deals and discounts from local retailers. The “Travel” section includes travel tips and recommendations for the area. Finally, the “Weather” section includes the latest weather conditions and forecasts for the area.