Fall suspected in Sauk death

A young man's mysterious body was found Friday at the base of a radio tower near Highpoint Road in the town of Greenfield. Sauk County Sheriff's officials said an autopsy will be done to determine the cause of death.

The 19-year-old man was found dead Friday at the base of a radio tower near Highpoint Road in the town of Greenfield, sheriff's officials said.

The man, who had been last seen Thursday, was found by an employee who was checking on the tower's equipment.

The man had been dead for several hours, officials said.

The cause of death is under investigation.

Vandals dump solvent near oil plant

Vandals tipped over a fuel tank and spilled much of the Naphtha solvent from the tank, according to the Condon Oil employees who work at the plant.

About 140 people in the community were notified of the spill, which occurred about 6 a.m. Friday.

A Condon Oil employee called the police, who then notified the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

Later this month, you have an unusual opportunity to speak your piece on the future of education in Madison. The University of Wisconsin School of Education, the UW-Madison Madison Media Group and the Wisconsin State Journal are hosting "Schools of Hope," a town meeting series nationwide. The meetings are being held in some of the most troubled school districts in the country to help educators, parents, students and community leaders come together to find ways to improve education.
