

Finding the Legal Answers You Need — Faster and Easier with FreeFuse

Marty Manion, NABOR CEO; Wade Mastro, NABOR® Videographer

NABOR® continues to look for new ways to make important member education more accessible, practical, and easy to use. One example is the use of FreeFuse, an interactive video technology now being used to help members navigate legal resources, contract training, and NABOR® contract-related videos.

Legal classes and contract updates are incredibly valuable, but they can also be lengthy. A four-hour class may contain exactly the answer you need, but finding that answer later can be difficult if you have to scroll, fast-forward, rewind, or guess where a specific topic was discussed. FreeFuse helps solve that problem by making long-form video content easier to search, navigate, and revisit.

Through NABOR®'s Contracts and Legal Resources video page, members can access legal resource videos, NABOR® contract information, legal articles, newsletters, and frequently asked questions in one convenient location. FreeFuse adds another layer of usefulness by helping transform video content into a more interactive experience, allowing viewers to get to the section or topic they need without watching an entire class from beginning to end. FreeFuse describes its platform as a way to turn existing videos into searchable, interactive experiences that can answer questions in natural language.

For busy REALTORS®, this is a major improvement. Instead of trying to remember when a speaker discussed financing contingencies, inspection issues, the NABOR® contract, addenda, disclosures, or other legal topics, members can more quickly locate the relevant portion of a class and focus on the information that applies to their immediate question.

This technology is especially helpful for legal and contract education because members often need to review a specific issue at the moment it matters. FreeFuse makes NABOR®'s video library more than just a place to watch recorded classes; it helps turn those recordings into a practical, on-demand learning tool.

NABOR® members are encouraged to visit the REALTOR Tools/NABOR Contracts page, and explore how this technology can help them make better use of the legal education and contract training already available. Whether you are reviewing a recent class, refreshing your understanding of the NABOR® contract, or looking for guidance on a specific legal topic, FreeFuse helps make the process faster, easier, and more efficient.
