

Spencer Presbyterian holds solar panel dedication ceremony June 28

On a beautiful evening in June, Spencer Presbyterian Church held a dedication service for its recently installed solar panels. The service, led by Robin Blakeman and Mary Quick, was attended by 25 people, including people from around the state who are close to the congregation: Ron and Carol Buckalew, Jim and Karen Robinson, Julie Hitsman, Justin Murdock and Ed Thompson. The congregation is grateful for the outpouring of support for this project. The event was followed by an information session on how to go solar, and the church plans to be part of the National Solar Tour on October 6 to promote the increased use of clean solar energy.
