

Introducing New Resources From Your Resource Center

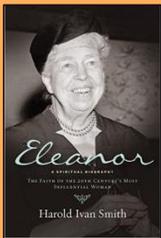

Being Mortal: Medicine and What Matters in the End, Atul Gawande, (MacMillan Audio)

This audio CD by surgeon Atul Gawande is 7 discs, lasting 9 hours. Using strong research and gripping stories, Gawande tells us how we, personally, and our society can do better at having and providing a good life to the very end. He reminds us of what modern medicine can do and what it was not meant to do. The CD set includes an interview with the author.

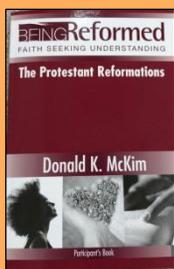

Reformation Questions, Reformation Answers, Donald McKim, (Westminster John Knox Press)

Here is an easy-to-use style highlighting key facts, people, and theologies of the Protestant Reformation.

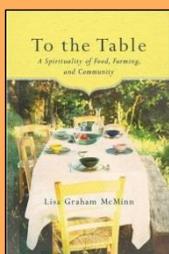

Eleanor: A Spiritual Biography: the Faith of the 20th Century's Most Influential Woman, Harold Ivan Smith, (Westminster John Knox Press)

This biography focuses on the spirituality of Eleanor Roosevelt showing how her personal faith, which focused on Jesus, fueled her commitment to civil rights, women's rights, and the rights of all Americans who were marginalized by society.

Being Reformed: The Protestant Reformations, Donald K. McKim, (CMP)

The latest Being Reformed curriculum provides six lessons with a Leader's Guide. Learn the background of the Reformation; learn about Martin Luther and John Calvin, as well as the traditions associated with them. Study Anabaptism and Anglicanism, then learn the dividing theological issues and where the reformations are today.

To the Table: A spirituality of food, Farming and Community, Lisa Graham McMinn, (Brazzors Press)

McMinn shows us how eating can be a sacramental act. There are 7 chapters, which include recipes & scripture references. The author takes us backward from our plate of food through production to the seed in a sower's hand. This book may be used as a 7- or 8-lesson group or individual study. Each chapter includes questions and reflections.
