

Privacy Policy

Effective November 15, 2010

Our Commitment to Privacy

Your privacy is important to us. TravSearch® is committed to protecting your online privacy while you use the services provided on our website. We urge you to read this privacy policy in its entirety so you will understand all of the practices and procedures we follow relating to your online privacy.

The Information We Collect

While we don't ask for any registration or personal information to browse our site, some information about your server address, Web browser, and computer system are automatically transmitted to our Web servers so that we can operate our site on the Internet.

This policy applies to all information collected on the TravSearch® website. If you choose to book travel on this website, we require you to submit the following information: Name, Mailing Address, Email Address, Phone Number and/or Credit/Debit Card Information.

In addition, as part of our site operation, we reserve the right to automatically collect and track:

- The home server domain name, e-mail address, type of computer, and type of Web browser you are using while you visit our website.
- Information on what pages of our website you access.

How We Use This Information

Save the Date Vacations stores its contact information in a database. Credit card information is stored on a secure server. We restrict access to your personal information to those employees who need to know that information to process your information request/enrollment as well as to assist us in customizing the content of our site to provide information that may be of interest to you.

Save the Date Vacations does not currently sell or rent your personally identifiable information to other companies. We do, however, reserve the right to do so and will not notify you or obtain your consent prior to sharing, selling or otherwise disclosing your personal information to third parties.

Save the Date Vacations will share your personally identifiable information with other companies when:

- We provide your information to another company such as retailers and direct marketers that assists us in providing products and services.
- We are required by law to provide your information; or
- We find that your actions on our website violates our Terms of Use agreement that you agree to by using our website.

Security

To prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy, and ensure the correct use of information, we have put in place the appropriate physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

Links to Other Web Sites

Our website may contain links to other Internet websites. We encourage our clients, suppliers and other third parties to implement policies and practices that respect your privacy.

We are not, however, responsible for other website's privacy practices or website content. Occasionally, you may receive cookies from third party advertisers, partners and vendors. We do not control these cookies.

Changes to this Privacy Policy

We reserve the right to change this policy at any time. We ask that you review this privacy policy from time to time to ensure you are familiar with the most current version of it.

Acceptance of this Privacy Policy

By using this website, you agree to the terms as well as any posted changes of this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to the terms, DO NOT use our website.
