

Prepare for a Safe Year Ahead

Get the Training You Need This Winter

Winter is a great time to think about safety training and plan ahead to gain the skills and knowledge needed to do quality work and come home safe every day, all year round. Take advantage of the SCSA's wide range of instructor led training courses, available online from the comfort of your home, office or site – no travel necessary.

Popular courses include:

- Safety Management
- Leadership for Safety Excellence
- Safety Auditor Training
- Fall Protection & Prevention
- And more

Classroom training is also back in Regina and Saskatoon classrooms, for those who prefer in-person learning in a comfortable, welcoming environment with hot coffee and good company. Experienced instructors care about ensuring students gain practical knowledge to stay safe and injury-free on the jobsite. We understand how important it is to keep the workforce healthy and prepared for what is sure to be a busy construction season ahead.
