

Khenpo Tsewang Dongyal Rinpoche, Lama Chonam, and Sangye Khandro have recommended that students do White Tara practice in order to avert sickness and bring longevity and blessings to ourselves and all beings during this difficult time. Khenpo Tsewang Rinpoche says, "The Mother of all the Buddhas, White Tara, is the female Buddha of our age. A savior and protector, her blessings increase prosperity and longevity, remove suffering, and quickly bring realization, connecting us with our innate nature of compassion and wisdom." In accordance with this advice, we will be offering weekly Saturday sessions of White Tara practice:

The Sadhana for the Wish-Fulfilling Chakra, Noble Mother Tara, entitled: An Excellent Vase of Immortal Nectar

About this practice, Sangye Khandro says: "The White Tara practice that we are engaging with is a terma revelation of Vidyadhara Rigdzin Düddul Dorje, also known as Dudul Rolpa Tsal (1615-1672). He was a predecessor of both Heruka Dudjom Lingpa and Kyabje Dudjom Rinpoche, Jigdral Yeshe Dorje. Jigdral Yeshe Dorje added the supplementary liturgies to this root terma revelation and disseminated this widely in his lifetime. Given that his wife and consort, Sangyum Rigdzin Wangmo, was a well-known incarnation of White Tara, this was one of her main practices. White Tara is the Tara emanation of immortality. Through her boundless blessings, all illness, disease, negativity, demonic force possession, and obstacles are fully pacified during one's life; ultimately, the state of an immortal Vidyadhara is realized. White Tara is an important daily practice—especially during this time of great fear and strife surrounding the global pandemic, the White Tara practice is the perfect panacea."
