Kansas Business Headlines for August 2026

- Johnson County Rehabilitation Hospital in Overland Park, managed by Nobis, announces a 10-bed expansion to significantly increase its inpatient rehabilitation capacity.
- Port KC approved $480 million in bonds yesterday to redevelop the historic Scarritt building complex on the 800 block of Grand Boulevard.
- White residents were 68% of the KC metro in 2020, but people of color accounted for 92% of the region's population growth over the previous decade, per the Mid-America Regional Council.
- Kansas City, Kansas, Community College opened its $68 million downtown campus, putting college classes, Swope Health clinic services and a CommunityAmerica branch under one roof.