Good morning Mr. Josselyn,

Thank you for reaching back out. I apologize for my delayed response. Currently, the Chairman's Father is in the hospital, so he is out of the office this week and likely next week. I do not want to schedule a meeting right now with the Chairman's schedule in flux. I will be happy to discuss this with you further once the Chairman is back in the office.

Again, I apologize for the delayed response and I look forward to having these discussions with you soon.

Best,
Hunter

Dear Chief of Staff Hunter,

A week ago, I suggested that we have a “serious no holds barred, frank and intellectually honest conversation on the real cause of the juvenile / young adult and ultimately adult crime problem.” I attached several reports I generated using data from the Maryland State Police and the Maryland Coordination and Analysis Center.

I have not received a response from you on this suggestion. Are you and/or Chairman Clippinger amenable to such a meeting and discussion?

Importance: High

Dear Chief of Staff Hunter,

Thank you for your prompt response to my email.

Attached is a compilation of data on the demographics of homicide in Maryland 2011-2020 and homicide trends 2013-2021. No frills, no spin, just a compilation of the UCR data provided by the State.

Perhaps we could have a serious no holds barred, frank and intellectually honest conversation on the real cause of the juvenile / young adult and ultimately adult crime problem?
