

Temple Israel Men's Club
Annual (Online) Congregational Breakfast

Sunday October 25, 2020 at 10:30 am
Featuring Boston University Professor of Law

David Webber

Mixing Politics and Investment: Kosher or Treyf?

Global warming, gender diversity, worker's rights, and similar issues used to be reserved for the voting booth and the courts. Increasingly, these issues are finding their way into corporate boardrooms and shareholder meetings. David will discuss the growing influence of political issues on investment and its future implications on our society.

Temple Israel member David H. Webber is the author of The Rise of the Working-Class Shareholder: Labor's Last Best Weapon. He is the winner of BU School of Law's 2017 Michael Melton Award for Teaching Excellence. He also co-teaches Pensions and Capital Stewardship at Harvard Law School. David is a graduate of Columbia and NYU Law School, where he was an editor for the law review.

As we will be participating online instead of eating a catered breakfast together, the Men's Club will make a donation to feed those in need for every RSVP. Donations will go to A Place To Turn and the JFS Charitable Pandemic Emergency Response Services. If you have not yet renewed your membership in (or joined) the TI Men's Club, this is a great opportunity to support more programming like this by becoming a member today.

To RSVP & receive the Zoom link to hear this breakfast program, please fill out this google form.