Friends & Supporters,

Fernando and our El Agua Tu Prioridad team in Honduras has been busy since the beginning of the year performing cleaning and maintenance work on a dozen existing wells. Six of these wells were previously drilled by our crews and six were local municipal wells for Pimienta.

Worldwide it is estimated that 50-60% of existing wells fail due to lack of maintenance. For this reason, Primero Agua's Board of Directors has committed a substantial amount of our funds for care of the wells we have previously completed.

Additionally, in February, our team purchased and wired in a portable electric generator to power a pump at the Meyer Family well in Jesus De Otorá. This well was completed several months ago, but wasn't operational due to the failure of the local electric company to provide power. This generator will power the pump until a permanent electrical connection is completed by the electric company.

The issue of unreliable and expensive electrical service is the main reason that Primero Agua is moving towards the installation of solar powered pumps in areas where it is feasible.

We thank you for your support!
