“CYBERSECURITY FOR NON-TECHNICAL BUSINESS LEADERS”

Learn the newest trends in cybercrime and what business leaders must know to help keep their organizations safe from hackers, thieves, and cybercriminals. This presentation is targeted at the non-technical leaders of small and medium-sized businesses.

PRESENTER:

SPENCER FERGUSON
Chief Executive Officer, Wasatch I.T.

At the age of 22, Spencer Ferguson founded Wasatch I.T., which specialized in software license sales and consulting. The company quickly grew to become the #1 reseller of Microsoft products in Utah. In 2010, the organization added a new division focused on outsourced technical support for small and medium sized businesses (Managed Services). While roughly 1,000 companies in the state offer the same service, Wasatch I.T. is the largest Utah-owned outsourced I.T. firm. The organization has won numerous accolades, including four consecutive “Inc. 5000” and “Utah 100” awards, “Microsoft Partner of the Year” and many others.

Mr. Ferguson was named to Utah Business magazine’s “Forty under 40” at the age of 29 and is an alumnus of the Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses program. He has served as Chair of the Board of ChamberWest Chamber of Commerce and on the advisory council of Tech Data’s TechSelect program.
