Trauma-Informed Parenting: Supporting Children Who Have Experienced Trauma

Experiencing trauma can greatly impact a child's ability to learn and behave. Traumatic events can affect children's behavior in confusing and distressing ways. By understanding the effects of trauma, participants will discover ways to support the overwhelming emotions and difficult behavior that may result from past or current experiences. In this learning opportunity, families will explore the basics of trauma; the effects on both children and caregivers; and how to help build resilience to reduce and manage trauma-based reactions.
