Veterans Ranch News Flash From our Parishioner, Alison Perry

Central Oregon Veterans Ranch Documentary Film Premiere

A small nonprofit with a grand vision, Central Oregon Veterans Ranch (COVR) is transforming the lives of veterans tormented by the wounds of war and other military-related traumas. The course of Founder and CEO Alison Perry's life drastically changed in 2003 when her brother Todd deployed for the invasion of Iraq as an Army helicopter pilot. Her own call to serve led to working as a trauma therapist at the Department of Veterans Affairs for six years, which inspired her passion for healing combat trauma and established the initial purpose of the Veterans Ranch. Cover Me, The Path to Purpose, is a gripping documentary that tells the story of how a healing sanctuary is challenging veteran suicide and changing the paradigm of how we care for veterans.

Cover Me, The Path to Purpose releases at a documentary film screening presented by Alison Perry, founder COVR, and Suzanne DeLaurentis, filmmaker, in Hollywood this Saturday, September 17 and will be premiered at other locations following.

Keep your eyes out for when you can view it in Central Oregon or on the big screen!

Mammon Vs God

“No servant can serve two masters. He will either hate one and love the other, or be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and mammon.” Luke 16:13

Many people dream of being rich. Having a lot of money brings with it a certain amount of security and freedom to do many things that most people could not. Money, in and of itself, is neither good nor bad. If one is rich, that is fine. If one is poor, that is fine. From the perspective of God, the amount of money you have matters little.

With that said, the danger with money comes when you allow it to become your “master.”

Interestingly, even those who are poor can allow money to become their master when they allow the desire for more to dominate their lives. The key is in the desire and the healthy detachment.

What are you attached to? Are you attached to the money you have? Are you attached to the desire for the money you wish you had? The goal is to see money for what it is. In the big picture, money has very little value. It's a means to the end of taking care of your daily needs but can never become the source of your joy and fulfillment in life. Only God is the proper Master of our hearts and only He can fill you with true riches.

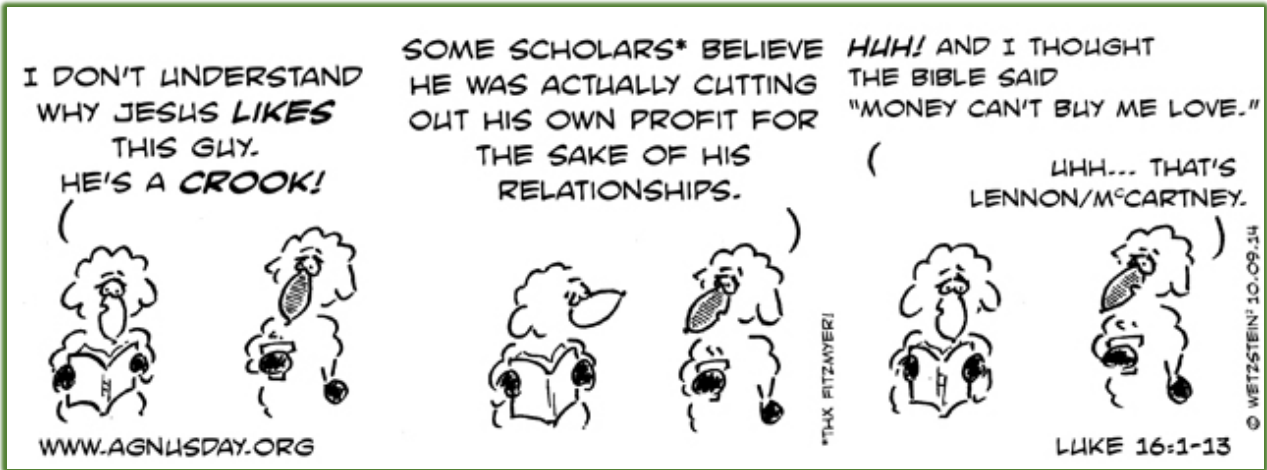

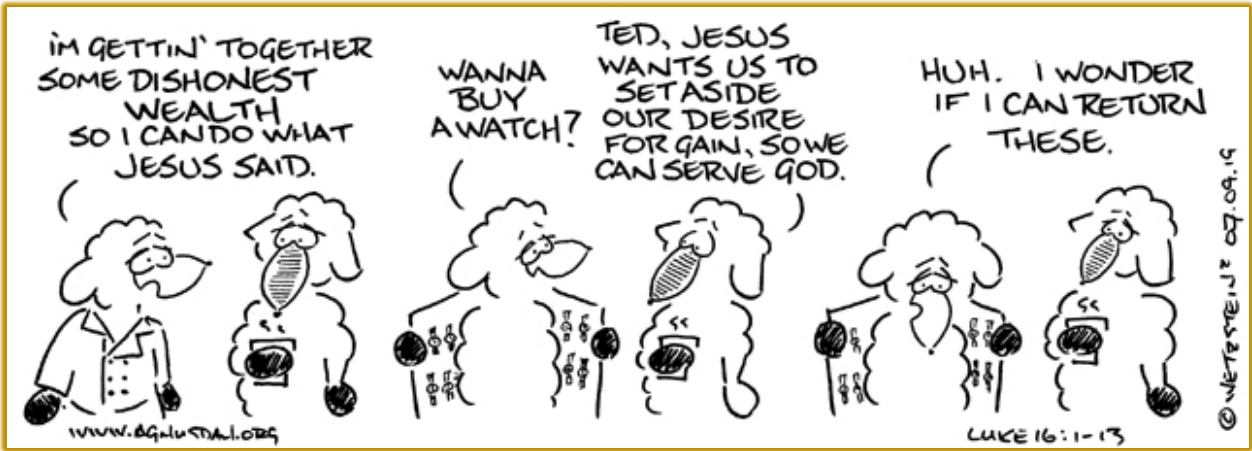

Reflect, today, upon any struggle you have with being overly attached to money, or the lack thereof. God promises to provide for you in your need, so it's essential that you trust Him. And if your financial needs are more than met, be grateful and cultivate generosity as you seek to detach from money as a false source of happiness. Let your heart only be filled with the rich grace of God as its source of fulfillment and you will be rich in the truest sense.

Lord of all, help me to keep You as the one and only Master of my life. Give me the grace I need to detach from all that is of this world, so as to live for You and in accord with Your will alone. I love You, dear Lord. Help me to love You above all else. Jesus, I trust in You.
