

Dallas and Fort Worth District Heavy Highway Forums

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) and the Regional Hispanic Contractors Association (RHCA) invites contractors and consultants to participate in the TxDOT Dallas and Fort Worth District Heavy Highway Forum. Meet with the TxDOT senior staff and learn more about the opportunities coming during the first year of the 10-year, $70 Billion Texas Unified Transportation (UTP) roll-out. During this two-event forum, you will have an opportunity to learn about the many professional and construction service opportunities coming to the Dallas/Fort Worth region.

You will also have an opportunity to network and meet one-on-one with many of the prime contractors and consultants from the Architectural, Engineering and Construction (A/E/C) industry that will be pursuing these projects and that will be looking for interested firms to partner with on these pursuits. Additionally, you will hear from industry leaders and experts about Design-Build Alternative Delivery Method and how professional and construction service firms can position themselves to participate on the many TxDOT design-build projects coming to the D/FW Region and the state of Texas.
