Martha Blondheim

Martha was born in Tallahassee, Florida, but grew up and lived mostly in Alabama. She went to college at Auburn University where she earned a degree from the school of Art and Architecture. Martha moved to Atlanta after being hired by Rich's Department Store. She worked as the trousseaux coordinator in the wedding salon at Rich's. If a bride purchased a wedding dress from Rich's a side benefit included a wedding coordinator. Martha thoroughly enjoyed being the wedding planner for a number of brides.

Martha met her husband, Herb, while she was working for Rich's. After a period of time Martha retired from Rich's to stay at home with her two daughters, Jody and Kathy. She worked part-time for the Apparel Mart for a few years. During the time her children were young, Martha was a volunteer at their schools. She was PTA president and served on the Families in Action for DeKalb County as the Drug Awareness chairman. She was proud to lead the effort to develop a booklet to educate families about the dangers of illegal drugs.

Martha joined the Dunwoody Woman's Club in 1996. One of her favorite activities is serving on the home tour committee as the coordinator for the head hostesses. Previously the club hosted card parties for a fundraiser. Martha took the lead with Tecie Thatcher in setting up the silent auction for this event. Martha is very proud to be a member of the Dunwoody Woman's Club and pleased to be a part of service to our community.

Martha enjoys spending time with family: Kathy Blondheim (daughter), Jody and Fletcher Roberts (daughter and son-in-law) and wonderful grandchildren Marshall who works in commercial real estate in Chicago and Ginny who is a senior at North Carolina State University in Raleigh, NC.

Martha enjoys art as a hobby and continues to paint step stools for children.
