

MEMBER SPOTLIGHTS OF THE MONTH

Kay Moe and Susan Crawford

Kay joined the Dunwoody Woman's Club in 2018 on recommendation from Jan Slater as they sat next to each other at church one Sunday, and she hasn't looked back since. DWC is full of bright caring women who are concerned about their community and support each other. It is a joy to serve with such a group of dedicated women and be a part of a club with such a rich history of service... A perfect combination of serving and enjoying special friendships! Since joining DWC, Kay has served as Recording Secretary, Co-Editor of the Newsletter, Hospitality Co-Chairman, and Publicity Chairman for the Home Tour.

Kay's childhood years were spent in Columbus, Ohio. After college, she taught First Grade and was a Reading Specialist in school systems in CT., MA., and NJ. She married, retired from teaching, welcomed a daughter and son and soon the family moved from NJ to TX and then back to CT. During the children's school years, she actively volunteered in their sports and school activities. Kay began her second career in business with the Rolm company after her children graduated from High School. When Rolm closed the CT office in 1993, Kay transferred to the Atlanta office and moved to Dunwoody. She also worked three years at a marketing research company and twenty years with Church's Chicken at their corporate office across from the Concourse. Kay enjoys traveling, walking, reading, flowerpot gardening and spending time with family and friends and especially spoiling her four grandchildren!

Susan grew up in OH, DE, and NJ and married her college sweetheart, Dohrm, 56 years ago. They have a son and daughter and two granddaughters and spending time with them is her favorite thing to do. She enjoyed and appreciated being a stay-at-home mom throughout her children's childhoods. Her free time was spent volunteering extensively in both LA and GA in schools, their Presbyterian churches, and communities. She also enjoyed playing bridge, gardening, traveling, and getting together with friends. She taught first grade before starting a family and also when her children were in high school and college.

Susan is happy to have discovered the DWC and she joined the Club in 2016. She feels it is the perfect fit for her as it includes all her favorites; volunteering, learning new things, and spending time with friends. She has enjoyed serving as Home Life (now Health and Wellness) Chairman, Vice President, President, Ella F. White and Lipscomb Chairman, Home Tour Co-Chairman, Corresponding Secretary, and currently as Photographer and Newsletter Co-Editor. Susan is proud to be a member of the DWC and feels Dunwoody is lucky to have such a great service organization in town.
