

Tricia Fox

SENIOR BUSINESS PARTNER & EXECUTIVE COACH

Tricia brings over 25 years of coaching and training experience in Career and Leadership Development to her work with Progression Partners. She is a Certified Master Coach through the International Coaching Federation, trusted advisor in leadership development, career mobility, and training.

As a career executive coach, she builds relationships that inspire trust and empower and foster collaboration. She is passionate about helping clients identify and assess their strengths and leadership skills, zero in on their development areas, and then build and implement a plan to achieve their development goals. She is a master at encouraging and holding people accountable, which is very important in any coaching relationship to achieve successful outcomes.

Tricia embraces the Progression Partners' Your24SM and Your Career PathSM models because of the immediate and long-term results and the highly personal developmental experience. It is development at its best! Tricia is an Executive Coach for Butler University's MBA Program and is passionate about working with high potentials through senior executives. One of Tricia's career highlights was being chosen as one of eight coaches across the country to coach former NFL players to identify, build and launch their next venture.

Prior to joining Progression Partners, Tricia held strategic leadership positions in higher education, the outplacement industry, and not-for-profit organizations. She was instrumental in the leadership of a start-up organization that provides workforce solutions to veterans called Operation: Job Ready Veterans (OJRV). In its third year, OJRV was recognized with the National Seal of Distinction Award from The Call of DutyTM Endowment.

Tricia earned her bachelor's degree from Franklin College in Indiana and her master's degree in Higher Education Administration from Indiana University, Bloomington. She is an ICF Certified Master Coach and is certified as a Transition Consultant, Executive Coach, and a Life Options Facilitator.

Tricia and her husband of 27 years coached and mentored their four daughters in their entrepreneurial endeavors, sports, and service hours as they transitioned from middle school, high school, and college. She serves as the Vice President on the Board of Directors for Key Consumer Organization, volunteers as an Edge Mentor, and is a Distinguished Toastmaster through Toastmasters International.
