LOCAL BRIEFS

Chinese-American poet to present program Friday

Verse Like Water, the visiting poetry program of Central Lakes College in Brainerd, will present Chinese-American poet Jenny Xie at noon Friday, Oct. 29, in the Chalberg Theatre, Brainerd campus.

The event is free and open to the public. Xie is a professor at Bard College, and her book “Eye Level” earned the Walt Whitman Award. This literary event will be followed by a book signing and a craft talk.

High school students who attend the event will receive a free copy of “Eye Level” thanks to Verse Like Water’s friendship with Graywolf Press in Minneapolis.

Cuyuna Care Center in Crosby to host candy trail Sunday

All tiny goblins, superheroes and ghouls are invited to trick or treat along the spooktacular candy trail up to the main entrance of the care center at Cuyuna Regional Medical Center in Crosby from 5 to 6 p.m. on Halloween, Sunday, Oct. 31.

This is a fun and COVID-19 safe way for children ages 10 and younger to wear their favorite costume and have a fun-filled Halloween adventure. Youngsters should maintain proper social distancing as they roam the care center’s outdoor grounds in collecting their loot.

Residents will stay inside their rooms while stations more than 6 feet apart will be set up outside of their windows for self-serve, pre-packaged candy. Children will be able to trick-or-treat outside of each resident’s room and greet them through their festively decorated windows.

The care center is also seeking candy and monetary donations to help support the event as COVID-19 has not allowed residents to hold their usual fundraisers. Generally, more than 500 youth trick or treat at the center and thousands of pieces of candy are distributed.

Donations may be sent to Mary Dehning, CRMC Care Center, 320 E. Main St., Crosby, MN 56441 any time before Halloween. They may also be left at CRMC’s main entrance screening station at any time before Halloween. For more information, contact Dehning at Mary. Dehning@Cuyunamed.org or 218-546-4353.
