Nadine Jones – Legal Strategist, Media Contributor & DEI Thought Leader

Nadine Jones is a seasoned legal executive and dynamic storyteller known for bridging law, leadership, and public discourse. A former General Counsel and SVP at global logistics giant Kuehne + Nagel, Nadine now serves as the founder of General Counsel Support Services, offering strategic legal and compliance guidance to companies navigating regulatory and cultural transformation.

A recognized media voice on issues of corporate accountability, DEI, and community-police relations, Nadine has appeared on NPR, NBC, Fox 5, WJLA and 11Alive News. In 2023, she received the prestigious Exemplar Award from the National Legal Aid & Defender Association for her work uniting corporate and community interests. Her accessible insights and human-centered leadership make her a trusted speaker for legal, business, and public audiences alike.

Nadine is also a published writer (Reuters Practical Law Journal, RadarOnline, Pasedena Black Pages, Jurist.org), former Adjunct Professor at Fordham Law, and co-founder of The Initiative: Advancing the Blue & Black Partnership, a nonprofit focused on rebuilding trust between law enforcement and communities of color.

She is a sought-after voice for her rare ability to make complex legal issues both relatable and actionable—always grounded in purpose, equity, and a deep understanding of the people behind the policies.
