Join the Union of Black Episcopalians as we remember, celebrate, and explore the lasting impact the Rt. Rev. Barbara Harris, the Anglican Communion's first female bishop, has had upon The Episcopal Church and Anglican Communion. Using excerpts from The Mitre Fits Just Fine!, Parting Words, and Hallelujah Anyhow, as well as personal encounters, our panelists will speak to how this avid support of UBE continues to compel us never to forget "the least, the lost and the left out".

Panelists include:

The Reverend Canon Nan Arrington Peete has devoted her career to improving the life and aspirations of marginalized citizens. Ordained a deacon in 1984 in Los Angeles, California, and a priest in 1985, Canon Peete most recently served as the priest in charge of two congregations in Washington D.C., Holy Communion, and Church of Our Savior after retiring in 2005 as Canon for Deployment and Ordination (Diocese of Washington). Prior to serving in Washington D.C., Canon Peete served as the Canon for Ministry in the Diocese of Southern Ohio, on the staff at Trinity Church, Wall Street in New York City, and in the Diocese(s) of Atlanta, Indianapolis, and Los Angeles. Nan has served as a member of the board of trustees of General Theological Seminary, the Witness Magazine, and the Episcopal Women's Caucus. A lifelong Episcopalian, Nan's lifelong commitment to Major League Baseball has her sitting in stadiums in a variety of cities to watch her favorite pastime while she tries, in vain, to catch a fly ball as a souvenir.

The Very Reverend Dr. Kelly Brown Douglas was named Dean of the Episcopal Divinity School at Union Theological Seminary and Professor of Theology at Union in September 2017. She was named the Bill and Judith Moyers Chair in Theology in November 2019. She also serves as the Canon Theologian at the Washington National Cathedral and Theologian in Residence at Trinity Church Wall Street. Prior to Union, Dean Douglas served as Professor of Religion at Goucher College where she held the Susan D. Morgan Professorship of Religion and is now Professor Emeritus. Before Goucher, she was Associate

She is one of the newly-elected members of the TENS Board of Directors class of 2021 and will be serving a three-year term.
