

Social Distancing and Wayfinding Decals

Direct foot and vehicle traffic to keep people safely apart.

Social distance queuing has become an essential part of business. Grocery stores, healthcare facilities, hospitals, retailers, pharmacies and restaurants are placing social distancing stickers and floor decals throughout indoor and outdoor spaces to keep people aware of distancing measures expected.

These markers help people find their way and keep the appropriate distance between one another to stop or slow down the spread of a highly contagious disease.

Let wayfinding decals help you increase awareness, eliminate confusion and provide clear direction:

- Mark the six feet of safe distance between customers waiting in line
- Direct people to temporary sites for testing, isolation or check-in locations
- Reduce stress by helping people navigate through healthcare facilities
- Coordinate vehicle traffic for drive up testing or curbside pickup
