Effective school safety starts with a coordinated team. Explore who should be at the table, how building- and district-level teams differ, and how clear roles, authority, and communication strengthen crisis readiness. We'll also examine how school personnel, mental-health providers, and public-safety partners work together—and how incident command, shared exercises, information sharing, and ongoing relationship-building sustain effective teams before, during, and after a crisis.

As a pilot program, your participation and feedback will help shape the future of this statewide training series.
