

WHEN AMERICAN PEOPLE TAKE ACTION....

Editorial – Dale Pflug

In this issue, we observe that the people are demanding justice. They have changed from just resisting the evil surrounding us to taking positive action. There is not a more amazing or encouraging example than the recent 2021 elections, particularly in Virginia.

This is a significant change for America of today, and just the beginning of a thrilling return to the principles of our founding fathers. In the Declaration of Independence, the opening statement says, “When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to assume the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature’s God entitle them, a decent respect for the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes that impel them to action.”

The Declaration continues, “all men are created equal, endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, and to secure these rights, governments instituted among men, derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.” Simply stated, the power in our constitutional republic rests mainly with the people. Will they accept this challenge?

For decades, the American people have largely been asleep, allowing the condition of our republic to deteriorate to the point that much of the younger generation now favors a socialist type of government. Those that sit in the halls of Congress, in our Supreme Court and in the White House have little regard for their sworn Oath of Office to “protect and defend the Constitution of the United States.”

The people are pushing back on the fraudulent national elections of 2020 and refuse to accept the flagrant corruption discovered in many state elections. Many are ignoring both political parties and exposing the hidden agendas to destroy our nation with the recognized participation of other nations including China and others.

The restoration of America is beginning with the “awakening” of the people and pushback against evil forces and continues as push back becomes action at the election polls. This is just the beginning! The full fruit of political consequences will be felt in the 2022 elections, and as the people have awakened, they have realized that they cannot surrender to the evil that occurred in the 2020 elections.

There is much more. Parents are demonstrating their intolerance for failure of the public education system. They are standing up at School Board meetings and protesting the abuses being visited on their children ranging from anti-American teaching such as Critical Race Theory to toleration of perverse gender and political teaching that combine to threaten the very safety of their children.

Parents are demanding access to teaching agendas and review of all teaching materials being taught to their children.

They are also taking their children out of public schools and placing them in private and Christian schools. (One article included in this issue discusses the dramatic increase in children being taken out of the public schools.)

Another area experiencing significant pushback is on healthcare issues such as mandatory vaccine mandates. Some of the most dramatic reactions are occurring in the threats made to people of job loss, removal of retirement benefits or similar penalties if they refuse vaccines, even when they already have proven superior natural immunity. People are walking off their jobs and sacrificing significant pay, benefits and security for their future.

American people are demanding justice for the crimes and other offenses being committed or enabled against them. The push-back has been building steadily and demands for justice and a return to the rule of law is building rapidly. The months and years immediately ahead of us promise to be both exciting and filled with significant risk.

We believe that the power of prayer is essential during this critical time. That is based upon a firm belief that God’s favor for this nation that He gave to our founders remains and will provide the courage and endurance needed to endure all that is ahead.

WE CAN RISE WITH THE TIDE OR GO DOWN WITH THE SHIP

By R.T. Byrum – podcasting at thruthegatheringstorm.info

The banner headline for the November issue of Heartland Herald proclaimed that “America Is Pushing Back!” As the Biden-Harris socialist rebellion nears the one-year mark of dismantling the foundation of this nation, there is a rising tide or, perhaps, a red tsunami of resistance, beginning to roll over them.

The march of time records the destructive history of nations that have fallen under the crushing thumb of socialism, and it was Vladimir Lenin who said, “The goal of socialism is communism.”

President Reagan labeled the tyrannical minds behind that ideology as the Evil Empire. They take over a nation like rodents relentlessly gnawing away at the freedoms and morals of the people that are the hull of a ship of state. Unless such infestations are eliminated, the ship will eventually sink along with everyone aboard.

The creeping pace of destruction was accelerated ten-fold by the Chinese Planned-demic. Democrat Rahm Emanuel famously said, “You never let a serious crisis go to waste.” Emanuel went on to explain, “And what I mean by that it’s an opportunity to do things you think you could not do before.”

Stop and think about that a moment. Before the Wuhan Flu, no administration would dare threaten states and schools and businesses with unconstitutional mandates, fines and lockdowns. Covid-19 was the gift to the socialist Democrats that keeps on giving.

Wall Street Journal reports that roughly 200,000 U.S. businesses have permanently closed. Unfilled jobs now total over 100 million ...that’s a lot of zeros -100,000,000. According to Millennium Magazine as many as 1 in 5 churches have had to close their doors due to drop in attendance and income. Others have adapted to online streaming services with no immediate plans to assemble together in live congregations.

As we reported last month, The Border Report shows that paying builders under contract to NOT finish the border wall is costing the taxpayer (You!) 3 million dollars per day. In the meantime, millions of dollars more in wall materials are lying in stacks along the border. The head of Customs and Border Protection (CBP) stated that the price for terminating construction will cost additional billions in fines for breaking contracts.

As the breach in America's Ship of State hull grows larger, more disaster is flooding in. Energy prices are increasing at an alarming rate due to Biden shutting down the Keystone pipeline and his intention to curb oil and gas drilling on federal land. That means you will pay more to heat your homes and drive your cars this winter.

The open border has been an invitation to encourage illegal aliens to invade our nation and pillage our welfare, social security, educational and medical facilities and to allow unvaccinated and even criminal insurgents to overwhelm our systems. Guess who pays for that? And guess how they are going to vote once they have the opportunity.

The loss of public safety workers, healthcare personnel, teachers and even truck drivers has left America pleading for staffing. Our hospitals are overrun with non-citizens, our schools overstressed with multicultural students; our shipping ports are jammed up with unmoving materials while ships off California lie at anchor unable to be offloaded.

All the above contributes to higher prices for food and products as supplies dwindle and the cost of production and transportation continues to climb. Every vaccine jab means dollars in the pockets of Big Pharma and the bank accounts of the deep state drivers behind the pandemic. More middle-class dollars spent.

At the same time the leftist media maintains the scare tactics to herd citizens into an assembly line of needles, nasal swabbing, mask mandates and Vax passports. Already, people are being ordered to, "Show me your papers."

There is indeed, however, a rising tide of protest from We the People and even some of our elected representatives in D.C. Employees are walking off the job to say NO to mandates for vaccinations and the wearing of basically ineffective masks. Fire stations have closed. Students are being kept at home. School board meetings are learning that parents have the right to demand a vote on what their children are being taught. Churches are being filled in defiance of unconstitutional orders to close the doors. Tea Party meetings are beginning to stir up members with powerful conservative speakers, flag waving demonstrations and calls to action by letting elected leaders know we are legally their boss.

For over 250 years, Conservatives, Christians, and Constitutionlists have more or less sat on their hands waiting for the next election to turn things around.

Friends, we don't have that luxury anymore. If you love America and the freedoms so many have fought and died for, then become an activist to save this magnificent ship on which we live.

INTRODUCTION TO THE CONTINUITY OF GOVERNMENT

By Dale Pflug, Publisher

With all that is going on today in our government, many people wonder how long this American experiment can continue. Many enemies, both internal and external, are dedicated to the destruction of this constitutional republic. The Biden presidency, the courts and Congress have abdicated their duties and responsibilities to take action to preserve all that our founders fought so hard to establish.

And yet they all took an oath to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution from the threats both foreign and domestic. Whether it is the assault of illegal aliens on our borders, the terror of a bioweapon-based pandemic with vaccination mandates, or the failure of the states and federal government to conduct fair and honest elections, we find ourselves on the verge of a massive failure of government to be able to continue providing essential operations.

Few people recognize the remedy that exists to respond to the existing failure of government. Continuity of Government (COG) is the principle of establishing defined procedures that allow a government to continue its essential operations in case of a catastrophic event such as nuclear war. It was developed during World War II during the bombing of Britain to avoid or minimize confusion or disorder from potential power vacuums in leadership. In the US, COG was activated following the September 11 attacks and is a standard requirement in all departments of the federal and many state governments.

The National Security Act of 1947 is found in Chapter 44 of United States Code, Title 50 – War and National Defense. It states that "it is the policy of the US to maintain comprehensive and effective continuity programs to preserve government structure under the US Constitution and the Presidential Policy Directive-40 (PPD-40) of July 15, 2016.

PPD-40 is classified but Federal Continuity Directives 1 & 2 create the framework for implementation for all continuity programs. The focus of any continuity of government operation is to sustain performance of 8 National Essential Functions spelled out below:

NEF-1: Ensuring the continued functioning of our form of government under the United States Constitution, including the three separate branches of government.

NEF-2: Providing leadership visible to the Nation and the world and maintaining the trust and confidence of the American people.

NEF-3: Defending the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic, and preventing or interdicting attacks against the United States or its people, property, or interests.

NEF-4: Maintaining and fostering effective relationships with foreign nations.

NEF-5: Protecting against threats to the homeland and bringing to justice perpetrators of crimes or attacks against the United States or its people, property, or interests.

NEF-6: Providing rapid and effective response to and recovery from the domestic consequences of an attack or other incident.

NEF-7: Protecting and stabilizing the Nation's economy and ensuring public confidence in its financial systems.

NEF-8: Providing for Federal Government services that address the national health, safety, and welfare needs of the United States.

On December 7th, 2020, Trump issued an executive order using Presidential powers based in the context of War & National Defense to increase the resilience of the executive branch to ensure the continuity of operations, continuity of government, and enduring constitutional government.

On January 20, 2021, President Donald Trump gave his final speech before he left the Presidency. He was not abandoning the fight but moving to implement a real Continuity of Government plan with the full intent of using Devolution as part of the Plan.

Devolution is the capability to transfer statutory authority and responsibility from an organization's primary operating staff and facilities to other designated staff and alternative locations to sustain essential functions. We will continue to provide information about Continuity of Government and Devolution in future issues of the Heartland Herald. In the interim, we recommend a video on Trump's Military Devolution Operation (12 min.) at <https://youtu.be/WB-x1X8kMmU>

Useless Cruelty to Animals Experimentation

From an online article by Devin Murphy

Doctor Anthony Fauci, director of the National Institutes of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), came under heavy fire recently for his agency's nightmarish puppy experiments.

Anthony Fauci listens during a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee hearing/ Stefani Reynolds/Reuters

Sparking the debate was a letter sent to Dr. Fauci by Congresswoman Nancy Mace (R., S.C.) and a surprisingly bipartisan array of 23 colleagues demanding information on NIAID's gruesome tests. The tests included poisoning and "de-barking" beagle puppies. Congressional letters are typically ignored, but this one caught fire.

Our taxpayer watchdog organization, White Coat Waste Project (WCW), was the first to reveal details about NIAID's #BeagleGate scandal, with data obtained through Freedom of Information Act requests. WCW was also the first to reveal that U.S. taxpayers funded coronavirus experiments on bats and other animals at the Wuhan Institute of Virology via National Institutes of Health grants.

Public reaction to Mace's letter has been swift and fierce. It certainly showed up on Twitter. A recent weekend saw "#ArrestFauci" trending. This spilled into the workweek; Monday afternoon's top trending hashtag was "#FauciLiedDogsDied." On Tuesday morning, it was "#DrDogKiller."

Senator Ted Cruz even got in on it, tweeting, "I saw several tweets about this and assumed it was metaphorical. Surely Fauci wasn't literally 'torturing puppies.' My assumption was incorrect." Though the senator will surely be dinged by fact-checkers — "Dr. Fauci didn't do the experiments himself; twelve Pinocchios!" — rampant animal abuse is nothing new at NIAID, or its parent agency, the National Institutes of Health. These taxpayer-funded atrocities have been documented for years.

Nevertheless, the "fact-check" battalion has come out in force to defend NIAID's horrors. In a Washington Post column, Dana Milbank claims that "the right-wing disinformation machine" had "erroneously attributed" an experiment in Tunisia to NIAID.

Unfortunately for Milbank, the link he chose to "debunk" the claim actually confirms it: Tracking the grant number through the NIH grant database shows that the research was indeed funded by NIAID. Then, in an increasingly shrill rant, Milbank makes the shocking assertion that abusing puppies in experiments, cutting out their vocal cords, and killing them is necessary and mandatory.

Milbank's piece does not consider alternative testing methodologies; instead, he simply shouts at readers that de-barking and killing beagles is good and necessary, and that we should be "grateful" for it. What truly allows taxpayer-funded torture to continue, unchecked and unabated, is the institutional inertia of the administrative state — epitomized by the NIH. The National Institutes of Health is a well-practiced example of Washington's least effective solution: Any outcome demands increased funding.

The pandemic has been great for the NIH's budget, which has grown from $32 billion in 2018 to over $40 billion in 2020. According to Margaret Synder, Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) coordinator in the Office of Extramural Research at the NIH, approximately 47% of NIH-funded grants go to projects with an animal-experimentation component. Is the NIH's spendthrift approach effective? Do animal experiments drive new, life-saving discoveries? Is its budget well-spent?

Dr. Tom Stossel, professor emeritus at Harvard Medical School noted in a 2017 article that many grant-funded scientists are not really interested in pursuing medical breakthroughs, or even medical applications of their research. He writes: "More than 80% of new drug approvals originate from work solely performed in private companies," adding that the "private economy, not the government, actually discovers and develops most of the insights and products that advance health." Also, drug-makers know that animal experimentation results are unreliable.

One of the least-heralded successes of President Trump was his administration's commitment to end testing on dogs and other animals. During his tenure in office, the VA, EPA, and FDA all made a commitment to phasing it out. White Coat Waste Project's maximum-pressure campaign culminated in Congress demanding an end to VA tests on dogs, cats, and monkeys by 2025. If NIH will not course-correct on its own, lawmakers should demand the same of them.

As Fauci's taxpayer-funded animal-testing scandals such as #BeagleGate and the Wuhan lab have made clear, conservatives need to step up our scrutiny of animal experiments even more.

Crimes Against Humanity, Then and Now

By Heartland Herald editorial staff

The U.S. public loves their dogs and is outraged is about the cruelty of "Beagle Gate" and other experiments linked to Dr. Anthony Fauci's NIAID's funding. Congress and the public were irate and vocal about the issue. Think how outraged they will be when the truth is finally publicly revealed and widely known about the full NIH involvement in the Wuhan Virus experimentation not just on bats but eventually on humans.

There is proof of NIAID financial aid to the gain of function research conducted in the Wuhan lab. All those involved in this effort are complicit in making an animal virus communicable to humans. A reasonable person needs to ask — Why was that necessary?

The purposeful release of a lab designed virus is thought to be nothing more than a conspiracy theory. Information about the background of this theory is aggressively censored on public information platforms. Questioning voices are silenced and even banned.

Noted scientists around the world have warned of the dangers of the Covid "virus" and warned of oddly designed "vaccines" being promoted and widely distributed throughout the population.

There have been alternative, harmless, and effective treatments for Covid since the beginning of the pandemic, but their use has been discouraged and they are not readily available to the public. Hydroxychloroquine, Ivermectin, Quercetin, and other known alternative treatments are known to work but are not approved by our CDC and FDA for treatment of Covid. Again — why?

Biden version of mandated obedience

There is evidence that the damage the Covid "virus" release and mandated "vaccine" program implementation has inflicted on families and nations was planned and financed by the same culprits that financed the experimental puppy abuse, but the crimes are far worse.

Highly educated and honest voices have been crying out for justice against what must be seen as nothing less than a monstrous crime against humanity. American citizens do not want to believe this could be a "Plandemic," and that is what they hide behind. We don't want to believe that other humans would plot and release a human designed plague in order to reduce the world population for political purposes, but expert scientific scrutiny and some of the purported suspects' own words suggest just that. (words of Gates i.e. on TED talk and universities)

Nazi version of mandated obedience

Crimes Against Humanity were committed by Nazi monsters to eliminate large swaths of the European population during WWII. Evidence suggests that similar crimes are being repeated by a new generation of so-called elites who are madmen.

The Nazi "final solution" to rid Europe of Jews and other undesirables was horrible, but it was also cumbersome; how much more effective and convenient to do the work of modern depopulation with a virus, nano particles, and a mandated vaccination program. That was then and this is now.

We have a right to expect and demand that our national government and responsible healthcare officials wake up and take action to protect us and our children from this poorly scrutinized, unscientific, and immoral exploitation and to judge the criminal acts of public officials in the NIH, CDC, FDA, and Big Pharma.

The Madness of Masking Two Year Olds

From an article by M.B. Dougherty in the National Review 11/8/21

Are we at the beginning of the end or the end of the beginning on masking children? It depends on which Democrats you ask.

Last week vaccines against COVID-19 were approved for five- to eleven-year-olds. And Republicans were swept into local and state offices in several states known for their tough COVID-era restrictions on children. New York governor Kathy Hochul, who recently re-extended mask mandates down to two-year-old children, suddenly erupted with a vision that perhaps school mask mandates would end when a majority of children are vaccinated.

This was decidedly new. An exit ramp. Even the New York mayor, Democrat Eric Adams, said that, though he wanted to follow the science, he also wanted to see the mask mandates end by January 1. Without citing a peer-reviewed double-blind study, Adams said, "Not being able to see the smiles of our children has a major impact."

And without the blessing of public-health officials and their pronouncements, he even ventured the commonsensical thought that masks may be inhibiting friendships among children.

But other Democrats and public-health officials feel differently. "I would say, as a general view, that out of an abundance of caution, I would keep the masks in place," said outgoing New York mayor and potential gubernatorial candidate Bill de Blasio. "At least in the short term because they've really worked, because the kids have adapted to them well, the adults have adapted to them well."

Some COVID-era minor celebrity doctors and public-health experts are opening the door to mask-wearing even if you're an adult who got your latest booster shot, and perhaps even after COVID is gone. "Some older adults, especially those with chronic illness, can be more susceptible to viruses like RSV," Dr. Sachin Jain told ABC. "For that reason, it's best to keep practicing behaviors that will protect the health of older adults in our communities."

And then there is Rochelle Walensky, director of the CDC who tweeted: "Masks can help reduce your chance of #Covid19 infection by more than 80%. Masks also protect from other diseases like common cold and flu. Wearing a mask- along with getting vaccinated – are important steps to stay healthy."

Have you noticed that even as the estimates of the COVID vaccines' efficacy against transmission continues to be revised downward, American health officials continually revise the efficacy of masks upward?

Almost two years ago, Dr. Anthony Fauci told people that masks weren't very useful against respiratory viruses. That was based on ten random control trials done between the late 1940s and 2018. But now, masks, even the store-bought ones made of thin jersey, are high-scoring non-pharmaceutical interventions. And by the way, you should wear them because the CDC has now decided that preventing the transmission of the common cold is more important than humans relating to each other face to face.

Homeschooling Doubles Across America

From article by Bob Unruh/ WND news center

For the better part of two years, America's school-aged children have been forced to wear masks, attend classes via Zoom calls, endure being taught they are racists (courtesy of the Marxist "Critical Race Theory"), and generally subjected to a great deal of fear, confusion, and indoctrination – but precious little schooling.

"Enough," say many American parents who are taking their kids back.

"One good thing to come out of the shutdowns," according to the Christian ministry Answers in Genesis, "is that many parents have been awakened to what "secular" really means – Anti-God! And, as a result of that awakening, as well as various mandates, and schools reopening and shutting down throughout the year, plus other factors, Census data found that 11.1% of U.S. households with school-aged children are now home-schooling. That's double the number from before the pandemic."

Indeed, whereas last spring the percentage of American families with school-aged kids that homeschooled was 5.4%, that rate has now more than doubled.

"That increase means there are about 2.6 million new homeschooled students across the nation." AIG added, "a report also found that 8.7 million children have been pulled from a government-run school and placed in a private school which includes many Christian schools."

The Bellwether Education Partners, a non-profit education advocacy group, reported similar findings as did a report on Christian-Headlines.com.

"The percentage of homeschooling children also spreads across different ethnicities. The BEP group found that 9.7% of White families, 12.1% of Hispanic families, 8.8% of Asian families, and 16.1% of Black families have pulled their children out of public schools to homeschool them."

Stevan Duvall, director of research for the Home School Legal Defense Association, noted that research shows, "children who continued in public schools lost up to five months of learning" because of the pandemic and attendant lockdowns.

As far as private Christian schools, Todd Graves, board chairman of the pro-Christian education Herzog Foundation, says that in some ways, the Covid-19 pandemic has been a great instructor.

"Christian school parents found it easier to manage their child's time, communicate with teachers, manage their child's assignments and were better able to keep up their child's morale than the parents of children in public schools," he said.

Momma Bears on the March!

By Cheryl Pflug

Don't mess with momma bears when they're protecting their cubs!

The recent conservative victories in VA and NJ demonstrated a new blaze of passion among parents of school-age children. Once the campaigns became about who controls the curriculum that informs the minds of their children, voters from both parties made their message heard. – We own the responsibility of educating our children so they do not belong to the state!

A word to the Dems - Don't mess with our children!

The overreach of government sponsored indoctrination and far left agenda driven curriculum was finally seen in all its horror when parents saw for themselves what their children were being taught during the pandemic lockdowns.

Parents began demanding changes at school board meetings which got them branded as "domestic terrorists" by the NEA and the Justice Dept. Oops! That just made parent, uncles and aunts and grandparents angry, and they went out and voted Democrats out of office and breathed down the necks of those who barely kept their elected positions.

The blaze this heated subject inspired is overdue but welcome to those who have been sounding the alarm about America's education system's corruption.

Moms make capable warriors when they are ignited and banded together to get things done.

One such group in our own backyard is Moms for Liberty, a national group formed to fight government overreach. They are based in Orland and the following is information from their website. www.Momsforliberty.com

Moms for Liberty welcomes all that have a desire to stand up for parental rights (and not just moms) at all levels of government.

Their founders are Tiffany Justice and Tina Descovich, moms on a mission to stoke the fires of liberty. As former school board members, they witnessed how short-sighted and destructive policies directly hurt children and families. Now they are using their first-hand knowledge and experience to unite parents who are ready to fight those that stand in the way of liberty.

Moms for Liberty is dedicated to fighting for the survival of America by unifying, educating and empowering parents to defend their parental rights at all levels of government.

How We Fight: We hold decision makers accountable, or we work to replace them with liberty-minded individuals.

- Spread awareness and an understanding of the limited role of government.
- Oppose government overreach and intimidation tactics.
- Promote teaching the principles of liberty in our homes and community.
- Engage our communities and elected leaders on key issues impacting our families.
- Activate to public service and activate liberty-minded leaders to serve in elected positions.

WA Post Corrects Story about 'Let's Go Brandon'

HH Staff report

Zachary Steiber writing for the Epoch Times on 10/25/21 reported the Washington Post corrected a story that falsely stated a crowd at a recent speech was chanting "Let's Go Brandon."

The crowd was actually chanting "[expletive] Joe Biden," according to video footage of the speech, delivered by Donald Trump Jr. in Georgia last month.

The more socially acceptable chant, "Let's Go Brandon" was popularized when a reporter interviewing a NASCAR driver translated the crowd's background chant "(expletive) Joe Biden" into "Let's Go Brandon."

Now the expletive-free chant has become a national fad, with stadiums of young college students to older crowds chanting LGB in unison. Shirts, caps, and signs can be seen everywhere bearing the "Let's Go Brandon" logo.

Some schools and public establishments have even begun banning (LGB) written on apparel. Seems the unhappiness about Joe Biden's administration is growing. - Good luck denying American's free speech on this one!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Lady Justice, Open Your Eyes!

It is time for Lady Justice to remove her blindfold and weigh the evidence of our current judicial system! It is time for Lady Justice to swing her sword to combat immorality, weakness, and contempt within our justice system! It is time for Lady Justice to annihilate the snake on which she stands, the evil within our country. Above all, it is time for Lady Justice to illuminate the Constitution which she holds in her arms to remind all Americans, the Constitution of the United States is the law of the land! Is Lady Justice worth fighting for? I think so.

We must reeducate ourselves and remember the history of our nation: in symbols that portray strength and integrity of our country, in books and newspapers that enrich our minds and teach us, in classrooms and homeschools where future leaders who love their country are made.

The attempted ruins and contempt toward the foundations on which America was founded by those who hate America need to cease.

A recently appointed Supreme Court Justice stated more than once: "No one is above the law". Such ignorance and thoughtlessness. Come forward Justice and speak the truth!

Our government in its entirety is above the law! The foundation of our government, the Constitution, is almost nonexistent. Americans are not protected by the law of their land. Our current government is rapidly destroying our nation as we have always known her.

Carolanne Jordan, Avon Park

General Eisenhower Warned Us.

It is a matter of history that when the Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces, General Dwight Eisenhower, found the victims of the death camps he ordered all possible photographs to be taken, and for the German people from surrounding villages to be ushered through the camps and even made to bury the dead.

He did this because he said in words to this effect: 'Get it all on record now - get the films - get the witnesses - because somewhere down the road of history some bastard will get up and say that this never happened.'

This week, the UK debated whether to remove The Holocaust from its school curriculum because it 'offends' the Muslim population which claims it never occurred. It is not removed yet. However, this is a frightening portent of the fear that is gripping the world and how easily each country is giving into it.

It is now more than 60 years after the Second World War in Europe ended. This e-mail is being sent as a memorial chain, in memory of the six million Jews, 20 million Russians, 10 million Christians, and 1,900 Catholic priests who were 'murdered, raped, burned, starved, beaten, experimented on and humiliated' while many in the world looked the other way!

Now, more than ever, with Iran, among others, claiming the Holocaust to be 'a myth,' it is imperative to make sure the world never forgets.

This e-mail is intended to reach 400 million people! Be a link in the memorial chain and help distribute this around the world.

How many years will it be before the attack on the World Trade Center. 'NEVER HAPPENED!' Because it offends some Muslims???

Or some other people who feel offended? Or decide the past is not "politically" correct?

Millie Anderson

America, Our Country, not the Lunatics

Well, are you sick of feeling it? You know this feeling. We go about our daily lives with all the distractions but just under the surface we know our country is in big trouble. This may sound morbid but if I were on my death bed right now, the one thing I would want to know above all else is that my kids, grandkids and loved ones were in good hands concerning the leaders of this country. This is not possible at this present point in time. Sad and sickening.

Now, maybe many of you who voted for "good ole' Joe" see why 75—80 million of us voted for Donald Trump. It never was about Donald Trump as a "personality" that you liked or disliked, it was about his policies. They were common sense, best for America policies. If you agree with these policies, you are for America. If you are against them, you are against America. It's that simple. The boneheads that still think it's about Trump will always be boneheads.

Finally, someone came along and fit our way of thinking. It's not like he enlightened us; he just said all the things we had been wanting to hear for a long time. We were smart enough to see through the lies and smears of the "Destroy America" media outlets. We think for ourselves and are not sheep. Many people cannot do that and get sucked into the "wolfpack" mentality. Four years ago, I wrote a column that hate, and jealousy were going to destroy this nation. Early on Donald Trump made a statement that drove the Trump-hating media crazy. All he said was, "There is something going on here folks, there's something going on."

They tried their best to get him to elaborate, but he would not. What he was talking about is exactly what is going on with our country now. Donald Trump realized as many of us that the hate directed at him by the media and Democrats went much deeper than just him. Donald Trump was just their target for venting their hate, especially because he was exposing them.

For every smart, common sense best-for-America policy that Donald Trump implemented and carried out, the Biden administration has done a 180-degree reversal on with not even a thought of the devastating consequences for our country as we are seeing firsthand now. The reversal of these policies was done for only one main reason. The main reason is whoever is running this country wants it this way. Joe Biden has absolutely no idea what these executive orders he signed were all about. He can barely function as their puppet anymore. The ones pulling the strings aren't in charge either as they are just following orders from above. These people are referred to as "his handlers."

Hate and jealousy, fueled by a lust for money and power, is the burning desire for too many in our government. Greed has become part of their DNA. It all filters down through the lower courts, many of our schools, Hollywood, most sports, and we can't forget big tech. They all bow down to China.

I also said in that same column, when a person hates for so long, insanity follows. This hate by the left started or greatly accelerated when Donald Trump won the 2016 election. As odd as this may sound, it's like Donald Trump performed an exorcism on America and brought out the demons. We do know that China and Russia have Biden in their back pocket. He owes them as they paid Hunter millions in exchange for the favors to come. They also have a lot of dirt on the Biden family and probably a laptop or two of Hunters, so Joe better keep them happy.

Everyone knows that Joe Biden and Kamala Harris are not running this country. Who or whom all do you think are calling the shots? I don't care what your political affiliation is. Everyone who gives a damn about this country had better be wide awake concerning what is really going on right now. Only when Americans get to the point where paychecks are only enough for food and fuel as these insane executive orders from whoever continues to take effect, will everyone realize this.

I thought a while back our country can't last two years at this pace, now I think it's one year if things don't change sooner than later. Everyone must do their part to take our country back by letting our voice be heard. Never forget, this is our country, not the lunatics.

What happens when we reach 'herd recognition' of the truth?

By Karen Kataline

SOMEBODY HAS TO SAY IT

Something fishy has been going on and it's been stinking up the place for almost two years now.

Governments of formerly-free countries are now bullying, intimidating, and forcing every person of virtually every age (except themselves) to take a potentially deadly injection which they know has killed or injured untold thousands of people. In fact, they are doing everything possible to suppress that information.

No reasonably intelligent person can attribute these actions to "good intentions" or rank incompetence.

What happens when we reach "herd immunity" of people who recognize that the death and destruction of loved ones, businesses, commerce, free markets, and Liberty itself has been deliberate and executed against their will?

It looks like the information is getting out regardless of what these baby-doc dictators want:

The opening salvo and the dress rehearsal for rewarding submission and identifying dissidents was the ubiquitous and forced use of ineffective face-erasing masks. Visit your local grocery and you can identify the zombies in reverse.

As "woke" corporations and the propaganda media continue their roles as political proxies in whipping up fear and intimidation about the virus, they willfully suppress life-saving information and access to less invasive, less expensive, and more effective treatments.

From the beginning, that 99.86% non-lethal virus has been blamed for every brazen violation of basic human rights that has followed. If communists in and out of this country didn't unleash it deliberately, it's easy to see why they might try.

In their narcissistic minds, we must now submit to their new alternate universe—one in which they decree anything they want, and we obey, or are punished.

What will "the herd" do when they reach critical mass of recognition that these usurpations of our basic, God-given Liberties have been planned and orchestrated?

It looks like we may soon find out.

HUMAN FETAL ORGAN HARVESTING FUNDED BY DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Feds gave millions to University of Pittsburgh for human fetal organ tissue including viable and full-term babies
By Tom Fitton-President Judicial Watch

Judicial Watch and The Center for Medical Progress (CMP) received 252 pages of new documents from U.S. Department of Health and Human Services that reveal nearly $3 Million in federal funds were spent on the University of Pittsburgh’s quest to become a “Tissue Hub” for human fetal tissue ranging from six to 42 weeks gestation.

These documents were obtained as part of the Freedom of Information (FOIA) lawsuit in which Judicial Watch represents CMP and is suing Health and Human Services after it failed to respond to an April 28, 2020, FOIA request. The documents reveal the following:

- The aims of the project listed in the original 2015 proposal were to “develop a pipeline to the acquisition, quality control and distribution of human genitourinary [urinary and genital organs and functions] samples obtained throughout development (6-42 weeks gestation). [and] generate an ongoing resource to distribute fresh developmental human genitourinary samples from various stages (6-42 weeks) to the GUDMAP [GenitoUrinary Development Molecular Anatomy Project] Atlas projects.”
- In the proposal, Pitt notes that it has been “collecting fetal tissue for over 10 years...including: liver, heart, gonads, legs, brain, genitourinary tissues including kidneys, ureters and bladders.”
- Pitt noted in 2015, “We have” disbursed over 300 fresh samples collected from 77 cases. The collections can be significantly ramped up as material could have been accrued from as many as 725 cases last year.”
- Pitt boasts it has a number of internal connections as Well as a “strong working relationship with UPMC [University of Pittsburgh Medical Center] and the Department of Pathology” as well as three “laboratories in the flagship UPMC hospitals.” This includes a lab boasting a “ButcherBoy band saw for sectioning bone,” and a “frozen section room [which] has digital video feed to and from the operating rooms. This also allows for instantaneous discussions with the surgeons as well [as] immediate ‘show and tell’ for them.”
- Pitt states that it records the “warm ischemic time on our samples and take steps to keep it at a minimum to ensure the highest quality biological specimens.” [The “warm ischemic time” refers to the amount of time an organ remains at body temperature after blood supply has been cut off.
- Pitt anticipated “being able to harvest and distribute quality tissue and cells [and] do not anticipate any major problems related to the acquisition and distribution of the tissues.”
- Pitts target goal is to have available a minimum of 5 cases (tissues and if possible other biologicals) per week of gestational age for ages 6-42 Weeks.”

- Pitt’s proposal also included a racial target for harvesting of human fetal parts. Of its planned aborted “subjects,” Pitt desired 50% to be minority fetuses. The proposal suggests that the “subjects” be diverse because Pittsburgh is diverse; the U.S. Census Bureau shows the city of Pittsburgh is close to 70% White.
- Pitt’s proposal requested more than $3.2 million over a five-year period. The documents show NIH has funded at least $2.7 million so far for Pitt’s human fetal tissue harvesting and hub.

In March 2021, a federal court ordered the Department of Health and Human Services to release additional information about its purchases of organs harvested from aborted human fetuses. The court also found “there is reason to question” whether the transactions violate federal law barring the sale of fetal organs.

New Records Show Obama Administration Purchased Aborted Babies’ Heads for $515 Each. Judicial Watch announced on September 14, 2021 that it received 198 pages of records from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) involving “humanized mice” research with human fetal heads, organs and tissue, including communications and contracts with human fetal tissue provider Advanced Bioscience Resources(ABR). In May 2021, judicial Watch announced it had uncovered records from the FDA showing the agency spent tens of thousands of taxpayer dollars to buy human fetal tissue from California-based Advanced Bioscience Resources (ABR) used in creating “humanized mice” to test “biologic drug products.” The records show the agency ordered shipments to be “fresh; shipped on wet ice.”

(The HM [humanized mice] are created by surgical implantations of human tissue into mice that have multiple genetic mutations that block the development of the mouse immune system at a very early stage. The absence of the mouse immune system allows the human tissues to grow and develop into functional human tissue. In order for the humanization to proceed correctly the lab needs to obtain fetal tissue with a specific set of specialized characteristics.)

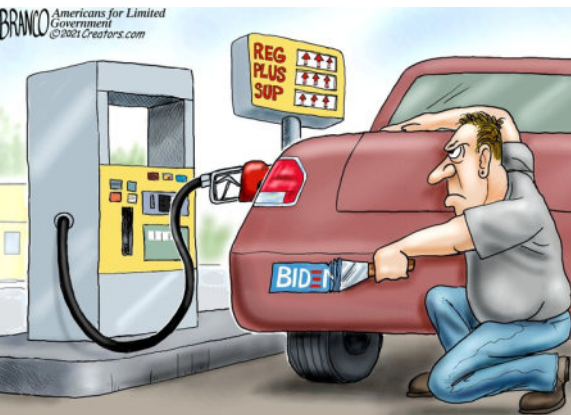

“These documents show taxpayer money is being used to turn the University of Pittsburgh into a one-stop human fetal-tissue chop shop — from procuring the tissue from elective abortions, ‘subdividing’ the human remains, to distributing and shipping the harvested tissue,” stated JW President Tom Fitton.

PRICES ARE CONTINUING TO SURGE:

Here’s What’s Becoming The Most Expensive

By Jack Phillips Epoch Times

Consumers are paying more for most goods and services. Compared with a year ago we are paying significantly more, according to Labor Department data released this week.

AND JUSTICE FOR ALL

By CS Bennett

The nature of justice, and what the founding fathers had in mind about it, is what I will attempt to cover in this commentary. I say will attempt because there are numerous variations of the term justice, and each has its own meaning. Jeremy Taylor, a cleric in the Church of England, wrote in the middle of the seventeenth century, that there are two types of justice. There is commutative justice, also known as reciprocal justice, meaning simply that I provide you a service or something of value that you need, and later in time you return the favor.

Then there is distributive justice, as the following statement explains, "This justice is distinguished from the first, because the obligation depends not upon contract or express bargain, but passes upon us by some command of God, or of our superior, by nature or by grace, by piety or religion, by trust or by office, according to that commandment, 'As every man hath received the gift, so let him minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.'"

Most of us are quite familiar with this thing called criminal justice, as well as something called Christian, or Biblical, justice. Because humans are not always virtuous, or feel benevolent towards their fellowmen and women, there are going to be times certain people of a certain mindset, their cold hearts full of deceit and malice, will prey on their fellow human beings and cause them harm or loss of property or even their lives.

This is where our moral and spiritual compass plays a role in finding remedies to counterbalance the harm caused by those with no compassion or feelings. Thus, we have societal justice platforms for rendering punishment and retribution. The means, methods, and the ways vary from culture to culture.

In the Biblical context of the Old Testament, justice was made clear to all; it was an eye for an eye. In the New Testament it became turning the other cheek. Today, as a civil society, we make people pay fines, pay other sorts of restitution, are ordered into prison, and even being put to death. Well, most of the time.

Unfortunately, we have men and women in high office who do not have virtuous hearts. People, like those holding current, and former positions, at the city, state, and national levels, who are enemies from within, ought to be arrested, adjudicated, and placed in prison if found guilty. Sadly, our leaders in high places always seem to get away with crimes and misdemeanors.

Many in Congress have records, surprisingly. As a red nation, we must see to it that these people are brought to justice and be held accountable for their misdeeds, and any criminal aspects, or elements, of their misdeeds.

Now, from the rumors that have been whispered among the inside the Beltway crowd, in 1999 alone, 29 members of Congress had been accused of spousal abuse.

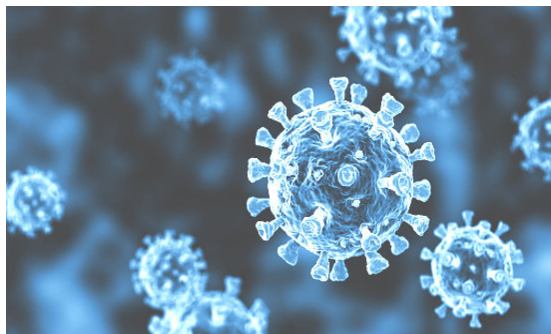

- 7 had been arrested for fraud.
- 19 had been accused of writing bad checks.
- 117 had bankrupted at least two businesses.
- 3 had been arrested for assault.
- 71 had credit reports so bad they can't qualify for a credit card.
- 14 had been arrested on drug-related charges.
- 8 had been arrested for shoplifting.
- 21 were defendants in lawsuits.

- And in 1998 alone, 84 were stopped for drunk driving, but released after they claimed Congressional immunity.

Again, if we had women and men of virtue presiding within the halls of Congress, we would have virtuous policies coming out of the beltway. We would have nothing like CRT (critical race theory which is nothing more than a negative critique of the United States and its founding fathers). And we would not have this thing they call social justice. All our freedom loving, justice for all, side want and ask is that justice be served equally among its citizens and that justice remain blind. Nothing more, nothing less...

COVID: IT'S NOT ABOUT SCIENCE—IT'S ABOUT COMPLIANCE

By R.T. Byrum, Editor H.H.

Socialism, described as a whistle-stop on the way to Communism, has struggled to remove the U.S. as a major block to world government...the New World Order. Their obstacle to success was that America's freedoms had created a nation of millions of individuals. To force such diversity into neat and passively obedient lines was like the proverbial task of herding cats.

Something was needed to generate a fear of being different: a need to comply with everyone else—something like a crisis. As a former mayor of Chicago, Democrat Rahm Emanuel once said, "You never let a serious crisis go to waste. And what I mean by that it's an opportunity to do things you think you could not do before."

Just as the fire beneath Joe Biden's chair in the White House began to heat up from evidence of corruption, plummeting approval polls and his failed policies raised prices and crime statistics, then along came the Wuhan Plandemic.

The focus turned from governing to using this convenient "crisis" to accomplish a greater goal: that of steering 3 million plus individuals into a tightly packed herd of frightened sheep. Years of a Baskin-Robbins selection of flu epidemics had appeared, run their course, and died without mass hysteria, but this Covid-19 was different.

Reports of research on bat viruses at the University of North Carolina before being handed over to the Wuhan institute were vehemently denied by NIH, Dr. Fauci and the usual leftist media crowd.

However, Dr. Baric of the University told the Washington Post, that both NIH and the school's biosafety committee in 2015 had reviewed research "for potential of gain-of-function" for the virus before the 2020 release of the alleged bioweapon Covid virus from China.

The Biden machine jumped into action, first suggesting, then demanding, masking and 6-foot "social distancing." Not surprisingly, the CDC soon stated that a 3-foot distance was more realistic.

Never mind those facts, the Washington cartel ignored the Constitution; ordered lockdowns, invasive testing, vaccine passports, and attempted to fine companies and individuals who resisted. "Show me your papers," brought back nasty memories of the World Wars.

Then report after report was released showing the inefficacy of most masks being used by people around the world. Even the touted N95 mask was seriously compromised if a person's hair or beard prevented a tight seal. Even then, the masks were intended as single use. The accumulation of breath moisture caused rashes on the face and the trapping of carbon dioxide that could harm vital body functions.

Next was the announcement that the various vaccines lose efficacy very quickly and second shots and boosters would be needed. Other reports were filed about shots causing heart inflammation, blood clots, rare immune-system disorders and a serious allergic reaction called anaphylaxis.

Vaccines are intended to remain in the same muscle area where injected. The muscle tissue is expected to then create its own tiny vaccine-making factories. The Covid vaccines, however, reportedly have been spreading throughout the body into areas that can be damaged by the proteins that make up the formulas.

Why hasn't the scientific world been aware of all of these issues after more than a century of dealing with such diseases? And why has the media and the Big Pharmaceuticals spent time and millions of dollars to set up smoke screens to block questioning of their actions.

Because the medical industry's treatment and sale of drugs and services translates into billions of dollars. For the government it is power. For the global elite it is another step closer to the New World Order.

That's what we mean when we say it is NOT about science...it is ABOUT compliance. If people can be controlled by Pavlovian signals in the form of masks and jabs, then they can become conditioned for further manipulation by those who hate America as it was founded and want to remake it in their own image.

There is a growing restlessness among both the left and right leaning people, not only in this nation, but around the world. Thankfully, millions are pushing back, and elections are turning against those who mistakenly believe they are above the law and outside of the reach of justice.

HAS OUR GOVERNMENT TURNED AGAINST US?

By Karen Kataline

Some have been saying it for a few years. Others refuse to consider it at all:

Has our government turned against us? With a monopoly of federal power, the Left and its enablers are finally showing us what they really meant when they lectured us for decades about "fairness," "compassion" and "tolerance."

They have:

- Opened our borders to the masses in direct violation of immigration law and even offered them huge rewards. ($450K anyone?) While imposing onerous and unconstitutional "health mandates" on the citizens who elected them, they have exempted illegals.
- Abandoned American citizens to be captured or killed in a country that has vowed to destroy us.
- Willingly handed them our high-tech weaponry with which to attack us.
- Rather than using commercial jets to rescue American citizens whom they abandoned to be captured or killed in Afghanistan, they demanded that those jets fly thousands of unvetted foreign nationals from that country to be settled in America. More have been settled in states they consider to be hostile to their takeover.

- Openly sided with communists in Cuba after a 60-year history of standing for the Liberty of its' citizens.
- Corrupted our culture and our children and emasculated our men.
- Sowed distrust and hatred between citizens in as many ways as they possibly could.
- Purged Patriots from our military, police and judiciary.
- Bullied and intimidated citizens to be Injcted of a potentially deadly, experimental drug while exempting themselves. They continue to escalate the persecution and punishment of those who refuse.
- Tolerated and condoned riots in our cities and refused to prosecute those who caused injury, death and destruction, and then planted FBI agents to frame their political enemies for "insurrection."
- Returned us to dependence on foreign oil by shutting down our pipelines and imposing restrictions on the use of our own resources.
- Continued to spend us into oblivion, causing hyper-inflation, misery for millions, and potential economic collapse.
- Shut down dissent and have persecuted and punished those who have dared to question or disagree with these and other acts.

It is painful and very difficult for good people to admit that such grievous acts could be deliberate and committed by their own government, but if we are ever to return our country to the rule of law, we must accurately address the motive of those who have so brazenly violated it.

Who let the fox in?

Attorney General Orders FBI To Punish Parents Protesting Radical-Left School Agendas

By Bob Unruh, WND News Center

'Biden regime is targeting political opponents by classifying dissent as "domestic terrorism"

Just days after the National School Board Association asked President Joe Biden to use federal and anti-terror laws against parents attending school board meetings to protest the radical leftist agendas being forced on their children, Attorney General Merrick Garland instructed the FBI to move against these parents.

Without citing any instance of criminal activity whatever, Garland warned of a "disturbing spike in harassment, intimidation, and threats of violence against school administrators, board members, teachers, and staff."

While crediting the school personnel with "the vital work of running our nation's public schools, Garland neglected to mention the explosion of disputes from concerned parents over controversial practices ranging from teaching Marxist "critical-race-theory" to at least one school-having students play act in roles of homosexuals and transgenders seeking sex from a classmate.

Garland warned that while debate is protected however, under the Constitution, that protection does not extend to "efforts to intimidate individuals based on their views." However, in one case it was the school district that sued a parent for requesting public information under a Freedom of Information Act request, request directly retaliating against her for her views.

The Department of Justice, he said will "prosecute" offenders and soon "will announce a series of measures designed to address the rise in criminal conduct directed toward school personnel."

While there have been instances of protesters disrupting meetings and refusing to leave, the board members also have refused to allow people to express their views, shut down meetings arbitrarily, forged ahead with indoctrination programs to which parents object and refused to allow them to opt their own children out, and more.

Garland's letter addressed a "partnership" involving "federal, state, local, tribal, and territorial law enforcement" to address "threats" against educators who are using public schools for their own agenda "I am directing the Federal Bureau of Investigation, working with each United States Attorney, to convene meetings with federal, state, local, tribal, and territorial leaders in each federal judicial district within 30 days of the issuance of this memorandum."

He said the meetings will be to develop "strategies" such as setting up "dedicated lines of communication for threat."

As the Gateway Pundit commented, "The Biden regime is targeting political opponents and using the right of the federal government to abolish the First Amendment by classifying dissent as "domestic terrorism."

"Curiously, Garlands letter didn't actually specify any credible threats."

And according to the Daily Caller News Foundation, Garland failed to specify "what it classifies as a crime."

"Garland's statement follows a letter from the National School Board Association (NSBA) that asked the federal government to get involved in the 'immediate threat' of violence from parents faced by American public schools and its educational officials. The NSBA said the incidents could be the equivalent to a form of domestic terrorism and hate crimes, the report said.

Nicole Neily, chief of Parents Defending Education, told the Daily Caller News Foundation, "It is shameful that activists are weaponizing the U.S. Department of Justice against parents. This is a coordinated attempt to intimidate dissenting voices in the debates surrounding America's underperforming K-12 education-and it will not succeed. We will not be silenced.

Rescuing America - An Appeal to Heaven

By Cheryl Pflug, a Watchman

If you have been paying attention, and you believe the things we have researched and reported to you, you know our nation is in grave danger from serious threats both foreign and domestic.

We have approached a moment of dire consequence to us all if we do not change course. We are at a Red Sea moment, so to speak, seemingly pressed into circumstances beyond our control and not knowing what to do about it all.

Without God's favor and intervention, we seem to be at the mercy of evil men (and women) who seem to think they own the world and our people. When Moses was trapped with the people of God at the edge of the Red sea and being pursued by pharaohs forces, he prayed to the real God of heaven and earth for their deliverance.

When Esther and the Hebrews were in danger of being annihilated by the order of a powerful man, she and her people fasted and prayed for God's favor and rescue. Though she had to take action that could have cost her life, she and her people were rescued. They appealed to the God of all the earth to intervene and He did. (see Esther chapter 7)

Today, we all need to appeal to heaven for God's assistance in America's present days of trial. We all must do all we can to act responsibly but even with necessary action on our part to change things, our eyes must be fixed on God. (see II Chron. 20:12)

Let our supplications be made known privately, but also take the advice of the prophet Joel.

It is time to sanctify (or set apart a time) to fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the Lord your God, and cry unto the Lord – Joel 1:4.

We know that this is not a day to depend upon mere men, but our hope is in God's favor who made heaven and earth.... can execute justice for the oppressed, gives food to the hungry, preserves strangers, upholds the widow and the fatherless, and is able to overturn the plans of evil men. (Psalm 146:5-10)
