

To all the incredible mothers – the ones who gave us life, the ones who raised us, the ones who love us as their own – today we celebrate you. Your strength, patience, and endless love shape the world in ways words can never fully capture. Whether near or far, here or in our hearts, you are cherished beyond measure.

Happy Mother's Day to every mom, stepmom, grandma, foster mom, and mother figure who makes life brighter just by being in it.
