The Harm to Older
Persons Evaluation
(HOPE)

2 Day Training

April 25 & 27, 2023
9:00 am - 1:30 pm

Space is limited - Register Early!

Designed for use by health, mental health, law enforcement, criminal justice professionals.

Building off the success from EAPO's Conference Series on Risk Assessment Tools (January, 2023) and the interest from Dr. Storey's keynote presentation on the Harm to Older Persons Evaluation (HOPE) tool, EAPO is pleased to announce further risk assessment training for frontline professionals.

EAPO in collaboration with Dr. Jennifer Storey, Senior Lecturer in Forensic Psychology at the University of Kent are pleased to host a 2 day virtual training (April 25th & 27th, 2023) on the Harm to Older Persons Evaluation (HOPE) tool for agencies who perform risk assessments.

Dr. Storey developed the HOPE, a risk assessment tool for older adult mistreatment (OAM), based on the empirical literature on OAM. The HOPE is a structured professional judgment tool that provides guidelines for use by social care, health, and mental health, mediation, law enforcement, criminal justice, and security personnel in the assessment of risk for OAM.

This 2 day HOPE Virtual Training will guide evaluators in the completion of a comprehensive assessment of risk for future OAM and in the development of a management plan to reduce the likelihood of continued OAM.

The comprehensive nature of the HOPE precludes its use by many frontline practitioners who are tasked with triaging a concern of OAM and implementing preliminary intervention while referring the case for more in-depth assessment.

At the completion of the training, participants will be provided a Certificate - Completion of HOPE Training from Dr. Storey

Facilitator: Dr. Jennifer Storey

Jennifer's research focuses on the abuse of older adults, stalking, intimate partner violence and violence risk assessment and management. She is currently working on a grant with the World Health Organization examining the consequences, risk and protective factors for older abuse.

Dr Storey is the author of a violence risk assessment tool for the abuse of older people called the Harm to Older Persons Evaluation or HOPE and is presently working on a grant from the National Institutes of Health in the USA to develop a risk assessment tool for the abuse of older adults with dementia. Dr Storey has also provided risk assessment and safety skills training to social workers, nurses, police, and mental health professionals.

We look forward to seeing you at our training event.
