

UCSF EaRTH Center

Environmental Research and
Translation for Health

FEB 2026 -
DEC 2026

REACH THE DECISIONMAKERS

2026 COHORT

Training scientists, community leaders, & health care providers to effectively promote science-based environmental health standards & policies in California

ABOUT THE PROGRAM:

- 1-year, virtual webinars & in-person events in San Francisco & Sacramento
- Teams develop projects that address environmental health concerns & meet with policymakers in Sacramento to promote policy goals
- Interdisciplinary curriculum taught by leading experts
- Participants drive community change
- Join a network of 120+ prominent alumni
- Stipend provided upon completion of the program

WHO CAN APPLY?

- Must live in Northern or Central California & willing to travel to in-person events
- Individuals. Researchers, community-based leaders, public health professionals, & health care professionals. Individuals will be assigned to a team.
- Teams. Existing coalition of 4-6 individuals. Must include a diverse mix of researchers, community-based leaders, public health professionals, & health care professionals.

MORE INFORMATION:

earth.ucsf.edu/reach

earth@ucsf.edu

APPLICATION WINDOW:
OCTOBER 1 - DECEMBER 1

APPLY HERE:

earth.ucsf.edu/reach