Do you have trouble understanding your child?

Does your child have any medical problems that affect his or her learning?

Does your child have any trouble getting along with other children?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you will want your child to take part in a free developmental screening for preschool-age children. The screening will take 20 to 30 minutes. To participate in the screening, your child must live in Jefferson County and be three or four years old.

The parent or legal guardian must accompany the child in order to sign a permission form.
