

All Saints Church of Winter Park proudly presents to the community

SECULOSITY

Book Launch and Author Discussion

"Parenting, argues Zahl, is an equally fraught enterprise, centered on controlling our children and searching for the perfect methodology that will deliver the results we desire. Children bear impossible burdens. Our children are our second chance. Our children are our future. Our children are the measure of our own enoughness as human beings..."

"Of the nine areas treated, work holds a special place in Zahl's pantheon of secularity. Inarguably, work has become the primary arbiter of identity, purpose, worth, and community in our lives." From work, we now expect the meaning and fulfillment we once sought from God."

Leslie Leyland Fields, Christianity Today

"Deep down, we're using work, politics, family and romance to achieve our own salvation. But the truth is we're flawed...David Zahl makes the case that religion is as omnipresent as ever – even among self-styled secularists..."

Oliver Burkeman, The Guardian

"I read this just in time."

The Rev. F. Stuart Shelby, Rector
All Saints Church of Winter Park

JUNE 20, 2019 | 6:30 PM

WINTER PARK COUNTRY CLUB (WP 9)

David will talk about the book and sign copies over drinks and light bites. The hardcover is available for purchase as of April 2nd wherever books are sold, but we will have copies available at the event.

For more information,
please visit www.allsaintswinterpark.org