

Here are a few questions to pose for table talk at your holiday gathering in person or online.

- a. What are you grateful for this Rosh Hashanah?
- b. What do you hope and pray for in the new year 5781?
- c. There are three types of shofar blasts: tekiah, teruah and shevarim. The teruah and shevarim are broken sounds. They remind us of the brokenness in the world and our duty to repair the world, especially during the pandemic. What do you commit to doing in the new year to help heal the world, including the small world of your family and friends?
- d. Twenty years from now, what will you want people to know about the High Holidays in 5781/2020?
