The 7 candidates running for school boards

Craig Deluz, Jon Fenske, Michah Grant, Tanya Kravchuk, Jen Laret, Jennifer Tarbox and Jason Walker.

Betsy Mahan had 3 questions for the panelists. The panelists were given different questions and these are the questions that were asked:

- . Please explain what authority a school board has over all aspects of our children's education, including opportunities to reject state mandates, impact health decisions, keep school grounds safe, and set curriculum.

- . As a new school board member, what is the most important issue you want to impact, and how will you accomplish your goal?

- . As a school board member, what is your position on adding this new vaccine? And if you oppose it, what can be done to give parents control over this health decision for their child?

The overall thoughts were that the districts are failing the students, the districts do not listen to their parents and the parents are frustrated. The test scores keep falling and the classrooms are not preparing children for the real world. They need to take away politics in schools and have freedom of choice with the covid shots. The parents want to restore academics, more parent participation and make schools safer. Questions from the audience was then taken as directed to any member of the panel.

11. Opportunity Drawing: Peggy McGinness and Terri Lyn Alexander led the opportunity drawing

12. The meeting was adjourned at 1:57 PM.
