

Dear UMA Member,

As we continue to navigate this pandemic together in the travel industry, we wait patiently for what we know will inevitably come: an increase in travel demand back to pre-pandemic levels... and perhaps beyond. For now, we can focus on getting our business positioned for that time, or as we like to call it, "operational readiness."

Does your business have a strong travel insurance program in place?

In an unpredictable time, travelers will be more inclined than ever to protect their trips from the unexpected with a travel insurance plan. Set up your program with USI Travel Insurance Services today so you can offer this valuable service to your customers.

Sign up is free and fast and we provide everything you need to market the plan, including a branded website and marketing flyer. Your business will earn a program fee for all sales.

We offer plans with Cancel For Any Reason (CFAR) coverage.

Along with an increased demand for travel insurance, we're specifically seeing an increase in requests for the Cancel For Any Reason (CFAR) optional upgrade, giving travelers the utmost flexibility with their travel plans, especially since travel insurance plans don't cover all pandemic-related losses, such as fear of contracting the virus or government travel bans and restrictions.

With the start of the pandemic, many travel insurance carriers stopped offering CFAR coverage as an option, but we are pleased to continue to offer these sought-after plans to our travelers and accounts.

New group travel plan for charters.

In addition to our individual comprehensive trip cancellation plans, we also offer group plans that would cover all travelers on your trip at a more nominal cost. Group coverage does not include the Trip Cancellation and Trip Interruption benefits of the individual plan, but it does provide important benefits like Emergency Medical Expense and Emergency Medical Evacuation, among others. Ask us about our group plans today.

Haven't signed up yet for the travel insurance program for UMA members? Now is a great time. Contact Sharon Broo to learn more and sign up:
