

Center for Pediatric Clinical Effectiveness, PolicyLab & the mHealth Research Affinity Group (RAG)

Invite you to attend a seminar

Using Behavioral Economics and Digital Health to Address Teen Vaping and Smoking: Preliminary Findings and Lessons Learned

Presented by:

Brian Jenssen, MD, MSHP

Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania
Medical Director for Value-Based Care, CHOP Care Network

Friday, February 8, 2019

12:00 – 1:00 pm

Roberts Center for Pediatric Research, 1st Floor, Room 1-120A

Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of this session participant should be able to

1. Describe trends in adolescent and youth e-cigarette use
2. Understand latest health-related evidence regarding e-cigarettes to help address their use in clinical practice
3. Contribute to research and policy discussions regarding use of digital health tools to support adolescent smoking cessation

Accreditation Statement

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia maintains responsibility for this program and its content.

AMA Credit Designation Statement

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure Statement

Brian Jenssen, MD, MSHP has signed the CHOP CME Disclosure of Relevant Financial Relationships Form and has affirmed that neither he nor his spouse/partner/family member(s) has/had any relevant financial relationships/financial affiliations with a commercial interest within the past 12 months related directly or indirectly to the content of this lecture that may pose a potential conflict of interest within the context of this presentation.

Lunch will be provided

Please RSVP to CPCE@email.chop.edu