

OVERVIEW

ALERT: CITRUS (ORANGES), GRAPES, POTATOES, STRAWBERRIES

Lettuce remains in a prolonged supply gap with historically tight iceberg, romaine, and hearts due to disease and weather stress, though romaine markets may be starting to ease slightly. Cantaloupes are also tight with reduced yields and limited sizing, while lemons stay firm but are approaching relief as imports arrive in July. Idaho potatoes are tightening from storage issues and reduced packouts, with ongoing concerns ahead of new crop in August. Overall, markets remain constrained, with gradual improvement expected in select commodities but continued need for flexibility and lead time.

TRANSPORTATION:

FREIGHT this week sees availability becoming better with strong markets predicted into the Fourth of July holiday. Shipper delays are still creating problems with on-time loading and transit.

WEATHER:

Florida: Warm with isolated showers and storms; highs upper 80s to mid-90s, lows 70s–80s, with gusty winds in Florida through Friday.

California: High pressure keeps temps above average with coastal mid-60s to inland 90s, easing Thursday with cooler, near-normal conditions, then warming slightly again over the weekend.

Arizona: Warming to extreme heat: mid-100s rising to 110s; lows 60s–70s; gusty winds; isolated mountain showers, valleys stay dry.

Mexico: Isolated showers and storms expected in Central Mexico over the next five days with light to moderate rain; temps near to slightly below normal.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Avocados: ESCALATED Mexico avocado supplies are tightening as the main crop winds down, with lower shipments and higher costs. Relief is expected in July when Peru and Flor Loca volumes increase.

Pineapples: ESCALATED Pineapple supply is tight but stable; larger sizes and some volumes improving, with contract business prioritized.

Grapes: Quality ranges from good to excellent, with a significant market difference between Mexico and Coachella, CA, with Coachella commanding the higher market.

Bananas: Banana supply remains stable despite strong demand for school business rapidly ramping up. Overall, banana quality has been very good.

Apples: Little has changed in the market. Declining supplies and softer May demand should keep things balanced, with prices holding steady as schools break for summer. Retail bag programs continue to absorb smaller fruit, leaving 100-count and smaller sizes tight across Cosmic Crisp, Honeycrisp, Pink Lady, and Gala until the new crop arrives.

Pears: Anjou pear supplies continue to tighten, though several larger shippers expect to carry inventories through the start of Washington's new crop Bartlett season in early August. The Bosc season is expected to conclude within the next three weeks, while Red Anjous are projected to finish by the end of June. California is expected to begin harvesting new crop Bartletts during the last week of June.

Blueberries: ESCALATED Market is in a supply gap: Mexico has ended early, California is light, Southeast is finishing, and Northwest, New Jersey, and Michigan are just starting or not yet ramped up.

Raspberries: Production remains steady out of Central Mexico and California, with markets continuing to soften due to stable supply and lighter demand.

Strawberries: ESCALATED Demand is soft but supplies are up on warm weather; summer retail competition is slowing movement, with promotions active. Quality is good, though sustained warm nights may lead to softer fruit.

California Citrus

Lemons: ESCALATED Lemons are tight with strong demand, relief expected in July with imports, while Ventura/Oxnard leads supply.

Imports/Specialities: ESCALATED Valencias are mostly large sizes; small fruit is very tight, requiring flexibility and substitutions, with 72ct/88ct recommended options.

Limes: Supplies, quality, and demand are all good, with the market steady to lower. The crop is peaking on 200ct and smaller sizes, with limited availability on 110/150ct.

Stone Fruit: California stone fruit is now in full production and running about two weeks early, with better peach, plum, and nectarine varieties already available. Apricots are starting to wind down, while pluots begin this week with additional varieties following soon. Washington cherry season has started, with high opening markets expected to ease as volume ramps up. This is a short season, so Northwest cherries will move quickly.

California Lettuce

Iceberg: ESCALATED Lettuce market is strengthening with low yields and quality issues; escalated pricing continues, with stabilization expected in coming weeks.

Leaf Lettuce: ESCALATED Romaine hearts are tight; leaf items have better supply but varying quality and pricing, with escalated pricing continuing.

Eastern and Western Vegetables

Bell Pepper: Bell pepper supplies are improving as South Georgia production increases and California transitions into Bakersfield. Green pepper demand remains strong, keeping supplies somewhat tight, though additional regional production should help ease the market in the coming weeks. Red pepper availability is improving in California, while limited Georgia supplies and the end of Western Mexico production continue to support demand, with prices expected to soften over the next couple of weeks.

Eggplant: Florida has finished, while Georgia supplies continue to build and are expected to improve over the next two weeks. Mexico and California remain extremely short with very limited availability. The market remains active but should ease slightly as Georgia volume increases, creating potential promotional opportunities next week.

Slicer Cucumber: ESCALATED Sonora is ending, Baja rising keeps market steady; Georgia tight on retail sizes, NC just starting and improving supply soon

Squash: Good supplies are available on both coasts, with multiple regions currently in production, including Santa Maria, Fresno, Baja, Georgia, and New Jersey.

English Cucumber: Long English cucumbers are on alert as yields have dropped, affecting production from both Mexico and Canada. Demand is exceeding supplies in a number of regions, but volumes are starting to improve.

Green Beans: In the East, supplies are steady with good quality and solid demand, and the market remains steady as production transitions to GA. In the West, the market is higher with strong demand and limited volume

Melons

Cantaloupe: ESCALATED Offshore cantaloupes are done; domestic melons now lead, but California Desert whitefly issues are tightening yields and sizing.

Honeydew: Larger sizes are limited, with Mexico supplementing supply. Quality is good, with good sugar levels.

Watermelon: Crossings from Mexico have declined, continuing to push market prices higher. Limited domestic supplies are currently available from California and Florida.

Mixed Vegetable

Artichokes: ESCALATED Quality is good, and supplies are limited.

Asparagus: Asparagus remains tight but should gradually ease as supply improves from multiple regions into late May and June.

Broccoli/Broccoli Crowns: Supplies continue to improve, putting downward pressure on the overall market. Expect pricing to gradually ease further as the industry moves into the weekend.

Broccolini and Sweet Baby Broccoli: The market has increased and demand is very strong and exceeds supplies. Markets are expected to continue to rise as production is very low the next few weeks. Quality is good.

Brussels Sprouts: Brussels sprout production is slightly limited, though overall quality remains good. The market is expected to stay steady with a potential uptick heading into next week.

Carrots: (JUMBOS, MEDIUMS, AND CELLOS) ESCALATED The Bakersfield region is currently the primary source for baby carrots, with improved availability. Jumbo carrots remain tighter due to smaller sizing, though conditions are expected to improve gradually as the season progresses.

Cauliflower: Cauliflower supplies remain strong, with good quality available. The market is expected to stay steady into next week amid continued ample availability.

Celery: The market is steady with moderate demand. Reduced yields are keeping supplies tight in Oxnard, CA, while Salinas, CA harvests are expected to begin next week. Quality is fair to good.

Cilantro: The market is active and supplies are very tight. High demand has continued. Growers should be able to cover normal volumes.

Corn: Corn market is up slightly.

Fennel: The fields are seeing lower yields and therefore there is a shortage in supply. Pricing will stay escalated until supplies improve.

Garlic: The California crop is progressing with good quality, while Mexican supplies continue to complement the California harvest.

Ginger: Supplies and market are steady.

Cabbage: Demand is moderate, and supplies are fair. The market is mostly steady on green cabbage and higher on red cabbage with good quality reported.

Green Onions: WATCHLIST Supplies tight; market remains high.

Kale (Green): Kale supplies and quality remain strong, with similar conditions expected into next week.

Mushrooms: Excellent supplies and availability.

Napa Cabbage: ESCALATED Quality and supplies are improving.

Parsley (Curly, Italian): ESCALATED Supplies and quality look good.

Rapini: Quality is good, but supply continues to be light. The market is strong and therefore the supplies will continue to be light.

Red Cabbage: WATCHLIST Quality is good, but supplies are light.

Snow and Sugar Snap Peas: WATCHLIST The market is lower on snow and snap peas with steady supplies over the next 10-14 days. Quality is reported as fair to good for both.

Spinach: WATCHLIST Supplies are limited with some growers and quality is good.

Spring Mix: The market is mostly steady with supplies meeting demand.

ONIONS

ESCALATED TX/GA/CA desert winding down; CA Central & NM now supply onions; freight is key market driver.

POTATOES

RUSSETS: Availability on larger sizes (40-70ct) is declining, pushing the market higher weekly. Smaller sizes are also slightly higher. Quality is good, with the Norkotah variety mostly shipping.

RED, WHITE, YUKON: ND and CO storage crops are wrapping up, while ID will continue through July. CA, AZ, and FL are shipping new crop. The market is higher on red and yellow potatoes.

SWEET: NC new crop in storage shows good availability across all sizes. Demand is strong due to shortages in MS and LA. Quality is good, and the market remains active.

TOMATOES

Tomato supplies are improving as additional growing regions come into production. Roma volumes are building from North Florida, Georgia, California, and Arkansas, though smaller sizes will remain limited in the near term. Grape tomatoes are expected to stay firm on strong demand and reduced Southeast supply as larger growers finish up, while cherry tomatoes remain tight, particularly out of Baja. Canadian greenhouse production is steady with very good quality. Overall, Roma availability is improving, while grape and cherry markets remain snug.
