

MARKET REPORT

AUGUST 8, 2026

OVERVIEW

ALERT: BLUEBERRIES, CARROTS, CITRUS (ORANGES), GRAPES, STONEFRUIT, STRAWBERRIES

Asparagus and artichokes remain the tightest items in the market, while avocados, grapefruit, beets, and several summer vegetables continue easing on abundant supply. Lime production areas are facing extended rain, raising concerns about quality and potentially tighter availability ahead. Peach supplies are winding down in Georgia as California production remains active, and stored apple and potato crops are nearing seasonal transition. Tomatoes remain well supplied despite weather-related quality concerns in Tennessee. Across most categories, supply continues to outpace demand, although trucking challenges are creating pressure for Florida movements.

TRANSPORTATION:

Freight this week continues to remain steady.

WEATHER:

Florida: Warm, humid conditions bring weekend showers (0.05"–0.25", with 1"–2" in heavier storms) and light winds under 15 mph through Friday. Highs hit the upper 80s to mid-90s through Sunday, with lows remaining in the 70s..

California: High pressure keeps temps near/slightly above average Wednesday (highs from 60s coast to 104 south of Soledad), warms them another 3–7° Fri–Sat, then cools back to Wed levels Sun.

Arizona: Phoenix and Yuma see isolated cells but virtually no rain. Maricopa higher elevations carry slight rain chances Wed–Thu before drying Fri–Sat, with better chances central-wide Sun. Temps stay hot (highs mid 100s–110s) with Wed gusts easing through the weekend.

Mexico: Isolated showers and storms bring 0.05"–0.30" of rain through the weekend, with higher local amounts in heavier storms. Warm, seasonal temps continue through Aug 9, with highs in the mid-70s to low 80s and lows in the 50s to low 60s.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Avocados: Mexico avocado supplies are good, quality is good, demand is good, and the market is steady to higher; 48ct and larger sizes are tight, while small fruit is plentiful. The #2 grade is tight. CA supplies are good, as are quality and demand, and the market is steady. Peruvian avocado supplies are good, quality is good, demand is fair, and the market is steady.

Pineapples: ESCALATED Market is steady to higher with contract priority. Large crowned pineapples are improving, but crownless and organics remain tight. Volume drops soon, driving severe tightness through mid-October.

Grapes: The grape markets are good, and supplies are improving as the San Joaquin Valley starts up.

Bananas: Banana supply remains stable despite strong demand for school business rapidly ramping up. Overall, banana quality has been very good.

Apples & Pears: The apple market is expected to remain mostly steady over the next few weeks. Supplies of Golden Delicious continue to tighten, driving prices higher as shippers wrap up the season. Red Delicious inventories are also declining, while Gala and Granny Smith supplies remain adequate. New crop Gala is expected to begin shipping shortly. Fuji and Pink Lady supplies continue to run lighter than normal, and prices could strengthen further as school demand increases.

Berries: Blackberry markets have eased as availability improves from Central Mexico, California, and Oregon. Blueberry volume remains strong from Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, and Michigan, resulting in improved availability and downward pressure on markets. Raspberry supplies have increased this week, quality is good, and markets are steady.

Strawberries: Strawberry prices spiked as supplies tightened from processor diversions and cool weather. Expect short volume until Santa Maria picks up in a week.

California Citrus

Lemons: ESCALATED Lemon supplies remain tight with strong demand keeping markets elevated. Offshore product is available, while District Two continues as the primary supply source.

Imports/Specialties: ESCALATED California Valencia oranges are heavy to larger sizes, with small fruit remaining extremely limited. Flexibility on sizing will be needed to maintain coverage.

Limes: Improved weather in Mexico has increased availability. Larger fruit is especially plentiful.

Stone Fruit: California stone fruit is nearing full production. Peaches and nectarines are sizing up, with smaller sizes becoming limited. Pluots have started, with additional varieties expected soon. Washington cherry season continues but will begin tapering off in the coming weeks.

California Lettuce

Romaine, green leaf, and romaine heart supplies are expected to remain strong throughout the week. Shippers are offering aggressive pricing on large-volume orders and are looking for additional business, so promote as much as possible. Quality is expected to remain good for at least the next few weeks. Spinach, arugula, and spring mix supplies remain strong for normal business, with good quality reported across all items.

Eastern and Western Vegetables

Bell Pepper: California markets remain soft as steady production and light demand continue to pressure pricing. East Coast supplies remain ample, though recent heat and heavy rainfall are expected to affect quality and reduce yields in early August.

Eggplant: More growing regions are harvesting, improving availability and easing conditions. Promotable East Coast and Midwest volume is expected over the next several weeks.

Slicer Cucumber: Markets remain mostly steady with good promotional opportunities despite slightly lighter Baja production. New York volume is increasing this week with excellent quality, while Midwest local supplies continue to build.

Squash: Plentiful supply with attractive market conditions.

English Cucumber: Long English cucumbers are on alert as yields have dropped, affecting production from both Mexico and Canada. Demand is exceeding supplies in a number of regions, but volumes are starting to improve.

Green Beans: Western green beans have a stronger market as production decreases and demand increases. Eastern green beans are on alert as they remain very tight, with good quality, strong demand, and a sharply higher market.

Melons

Cantaloupe: Domestic cantaloupes are transitioning from Central California into the Westside region. Product is peaking on 9ct with good supplies and promotional opportunities available on the new crop.

Honeydew: Domestic honeydews are transitioning from Central California into the new Westside region fields. Product is peaking on 5ct with good supplies and promotional opportunities available on the new crop.

Watermelon: Watermelon demand remains steady following the holiday ADS. Supplies are available from California, the Southeast, and Texas.

Asparagus: ESCALATED Mexican and Peruvian asparagus supplies remain limited due to production issues and strong demand. Markets are firm, with availability expected to stay tight through fall and into Thanksgiving.

Broccoli/Broccoli Crowns: Broccoli supplies remain strong this week with good quality reported. The market is expected to remain steady heading into next week.

Broccolini and Sweet Baby Broccoli: The market has increased and demand is very strong and exceeds supplies. Markets are expected to continue to rise as production is very low the next few weeks. Quality is good.

Brussels Sprouts: Brussels sprout supplies remain strong with good overall quality. The market is expected to stay steady and may trend higher heading into next week.

Carrots: (JUMBOS, MEDIUMS, AND CELLOS) Supply remains steady with no major changes.

Cauliflower: Cauliflower supplies remain strong across all growing regions this week. The market is expected to stay steady heading into next week.

Celery: The market remains firm, with escalated pricing in effect for value-added products. Oxnard and Santa Maria will continue as the primary growing regions, with smaller sizing expected to have slightly less volume than larger sizes. Shippers are currently managing lygus insect pressure, which is impacting yields across multiple growers.

Cilantro: The market is active and supplies are very tight. High demand has continued. Growers should be able to cover normal volumes.

Corn: Eastern supplies are tight, quality is excellent, demand is strong, and the market is higher. Western supply is slightly stronger, market lower and improving quality. Demand remains strong.

Fennel: The fields are seeing lower yields and therefore there is a shortage in supply. Pricing will stay escalated until supplies improve.

Garlic: The California crop is progressing with good quality, while Mexican supplies continue to complement the California harvest.

Ginger: Supplies and market are steady.

Cabbage: Demand is moderate, and supplies are fair. The market is mostly steady on green cabbage and higher on red cabbage with good quality reported.

Spinach: Supplies are limited with some growers and quality is good.

Spring Mix: The market is mostly steady with supplies meeting demand.

ONIONS

ESCALATED Onions will continue loading from Central California and New Mexico through the remainder of the summer onion season. Lower yields are keeping pricing elevated, with freight also impacting the market. These conditions are expected to continue until new Pacific Northwest supplies become available. Washington winter storage onions remain available.

POTATOES

ESCALATED Large potatoes are tight due to storage loss; order early. WA offers strong mid-size quality. FL colored potatoes have 1-2 weeks left (reds over yellows). NC sweet potatoes remain light until new crop.

TOMATOES

Tomato supplies remain adequate, with weather-related quality issues improving as Tennessee and other regional harvests expand.
