

Date: November 7, 2026
Time: 9:00AM - 11:30AM
Location: CSU Fullerton
Hazel Miller Croy Reading Center
(EC24)

Presenters

Drs. Soomin Chao & Laura Keisler
Department of Literacy & Reading
&
Dr. Aja McKee
Department of Special Education

Step into the role of learner in this two-hour workshop and experience Project GLAD® strategies that build oral language and belonging in inclusive PK-3 classrooms, anchored in the picture book, All of Us: A First Conversation About Disability. This session will help you to build oral language and belonging for every learner. Current and aspiring classroom teachers, general and special education co-teachers, paraprofessionals, and teacher candidates are welcome!

Experience firsthand, as a learner:

- Observation Charts
- Inquiry Charts
- Narrative Input Chart with the text, All of Us: A First Conversation About Disability
- Cooperative whole-class writing experience

Materials included:

- A book for your classroom library: All of Us: A First Conversation About Disability (while supplies last)
- Access to related resources and materials

Space is limited -
REGISTER TODAY!

Cost: FREE

CSUF | Hazel Miller Croy
Reading Center
COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

SCHOOLSFIRST | Center for Creativity
and Critical Thinking

Questions? Please contact: Soomin Chao, schao@fullerton.edu