

Speakers' bio:

After starting his career at IBM during the Y2K days, Spencer X Smith has always been an early adopter of new technology so he can better teach others what he's learned. He's given over 600 in-person speeches, including presentations at the New York Stock Exchange.

Spencer is a former 401(k) wholesaler for two of the nation's largest recordkeepers. He was the closing Keynote Speaker for the 2021 NAPA 401(k) Summit in Las Vegas and is a regular contributor to NAPA Net the Magazine.

Spencer is a graduate of the Economics of Blockchain & Digital Assets program at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business. He also teaches Digital Asset Forensics for the U.S. Department of Justice.
