Greetings!

FC 19 is over and it was GREAT!

Among the feedback I received were the following:

“The big takeaway for me from festival this year was such a positive opportunity for fellowship among our choir. And many of us felt Kevin was an incredible director and he brought out the best in all of us with his directing.” – A RI Handbell Musician

“The Handbell Festival held at Hartford University exceeded my expectations! It was extremely organized...the guest conductors were amazing, especially Kevin McChesney, who got us all to dig deep and to ring at a new level of expertise! The enthusiasm, the emotion, and the gratitude he displayed was very moving for us to experience. The sessions provided some extra ringing experience as well as insight into the behind the scenes of a composer/conductor. And the concert where Forte quartet played was an amazing bonus!

The University has a beautiful campus with buildings close enough for us all to walk to easily. The food that was prepared for us in the cafeteria was excellent! And all the University staff were always supportive to our questions and concerns!” – A RI Handbell Musician
