

THE KLAPPER KAFÉ

The Klapper Kat is too excited about attending the Area 1 Festival Conference (in June at the University of Hartford) to even begin to think about responding to your recent comments and concerns about serious handbell matters. So the question of the moment is: "What to do with my family and loved ones while I'm having fun attending the Festival? What are they supposed to do while I have a great time with my ringing friends? Do I leave them at home alone? Do they secretly want to become handbell ringers? Oh, if I could only bring them with me!"

That IS the solution! Bring them with you! Just think of the benefits: You get to see them every day; they might be conscripted to lend a hand hauling bell cases; you can share a list of all the interesting sites and activities Greater Hartford area. There is enough activity to keep them occupied for weeks!

A family member can share a room and meals with you by registering as a non-ringing chaperone (double occupancy), attend the evening mini-mini-concerts and the final concert on Sunday afternoon! What could be better? Be sure to share this partial list of things to do:
