

Sunday, March 5, 2023 Weekly Update for 4th Grade

FROM THE TEACHERS:

Walk Through California: Next week, March 9 and 10, the fourth grade will experience the California Walk Through on campus. Students are encouraged to dress up as a person from California History for this event. Please help your student find appropriate clothing around the house for this event. Each class will do this on campus field trip in their home room groups. Please look for the letter explaining the activity, costume options, and other details in the Thursday homework packet. All parents are invited to attend with their students. Due to the California Walk Through, there will be no math or ELA classes on Thursday, March 9 or Friday, March 10. The students will stay in their homeroom classes and review concepts already taught.

ELA Novel: All ELA classes will begin reading our next novel, By The Great Horn Spoon. This novel is in the Realistic Fiction Genre and uses the California Gold Rush as its setting. All students will read and discuss this book in class. Please do not have your student read it at home, unless they are absent and the teacher assigns the reading for homework.

4th GRADE NEWS & REMINDERS:

Wednesday, March 8, will be a minimum day. Fourth grade students will be dismissed at 12:10 on this day.

Grace and Blessings,
