Interested in making a Private Retreat?

The Archbishop Brunett Retreat Center is blessed to be able to offer guests the opportunity to make up to a week-long private retreat. “What’s a Private Retreat?”, you might ask. The Catholic tradition is filled with stories of the saints going away to a cave or cell in order to be alone with God. This, in essence, is a private retreat. It’s a retreating from the noise and rush of our day-to-day lives, in order to rest and refocus. Guests on private retreat are completely free to make their own retreat schedule. Some find peace sitting in the chapel, others in walking the grounds, and still others in quiet reading with a book in our library.

Should you wish to schedule a private retreat, please contact us!

Reasons to make a Private Retreat:

- + Time to rest and take a break from the busyness of modern life.
- + Time to find silence and better listen to the quiet voice of God.
- + Time to reflect and cultivate an awareness of what is happening in your heart.
- + Time to discern a life decision or a particular situation.
- + Time to spend with the Lord and pray.
