Daprano & Company

Foods of Distinction

...began in the early '90's as an offspring from a retail store located in San Francisco. Angelo Daprano, a world traveler and food connoisseur began sourcing goods for his shop and decided to share his wonderful findings with the rest of America. He turned his full attention to the importing, selling and distributing his products throughout the United States. The company is an importer and distributor of premium specialty chocolates, candies and cakes from all over the world. His commitment to sourcing only the finest quality products established Daprano & Company in the Specialty Food industry.

In 2003, Sidari Enterprises, LLC purchased Daprano & Company. When Dominic Sidari was looking to buy Daprano & Company in 2003 he wanted to bring something extra special to the specialty food business. Sidari recognized the potential for Daprano & Company to become a major player in the specialty food industry. Armed with an extensive background in premium food products and a passion for quality, Sidari knew that taking Daprano to the next level meant giving it a service facelift.

Under Sidari's vision and passion for quality and customer satisfaction Daprano & Company's mission continues to search the globe in order to find the world's finest confectionery products that will satisfy the most discriminating of palates. Daprano & Company imports these delicacies and proudly provides a wide array of confections including: confetti almonds, chocolates, assorted candies, amaretto cookies, licorice, torrone, panettone, mints, gum, fruit pastilles, and sugar free confections; all delivered with world-class service to their customers.

Within the changing retail environment, Daprano & Company has continued to maintain its high quality and special positioning: whether through its fine Italian Chocolates, highest quality Panettone and Torrone, to its everyday products that add the uniqueness and European flair to each category that it competes.

High quality and exceptional service are the driving force behind the company.
