Program Overview

This course is an interactive audience response lecture allowing you to engage with a risk management specialist to discuss real-life scenarios based on actual calls received by the PRMS risk management helpline. How would you deal with a law enforcement demand for patient records, a "Friend" request from a patient, pharmacist report of prescription alteration or an estranged parent demand for records?

For the second part of the course, a defense attorney from PRMS panel of counsel will describe local trends in professional liability exposures.
