

Chamonique Family On Sophia in the Buckeye Neighborhood

Chamonique is a single mother of an adorable 8 month old boy. It is very important to her to have her own place for herself and her son—where they can make a home. She has been researching becoming a homeowner for well over a year. She even completed a homebuyer education class before applying to Habitat. Chamonique wants to own a home so that she does not “throw her money away in rent” and so that she could be a role model to her son.

Chamonique’s family and life is on the Eastside where she works as an STNA.

She has been volunteering on other Habitat families’ houses and can’t wait to work on her own. She loves the hands on aspect of helping with the homes.

She is very much looking forward to decorating her own home. She recently came into Habitat to select the flooring and cabinet choices and could not stop smiling. She can’t wait to move in and decorate her son’s room. Construction believes this house can be completed in January.
