

April 20, 2021

For Immediate Release

Atkins Kroll Aids Village Mayors in Used Car Battery Clean Up

(Tamuning, Guam) In celebration of international 2021 Earth Day in the theme of "Restore Our Earth," Atkins Kroll, Inc., distributor of the AC Delco brand of automotive parts and batteries, announced a used car battery campaign with the Mayor's Council of Guam. "The 30-day campaign will help clean up used and discarded automotive batteries out of the villages and into a prescribed recycling program," said Wendi Herring, AK President.

"We support the Lt. Governor of Guam's Beautification Task Force and the Guam Visitors Bureau island-wide clean-up endeavors. We all need to pitch in with fixing up, cleaning up, and sprucing up our island in re-igniting our tourism industry," added Herring.

Atkins Kroll will coordinate with each village mayor to collect used and discarded car batteries. Atkins Kroll will pick up the batteries at the mayors' offices on designated collection dates. In return for using each village mayor's offices as collection points, Atkins Kroll will award the village mayors $10 for each used and discarded battery.

The used and discarded battery collection dates will be as follows:

Central Villages – Tuesday, May 25, 2021

Southern Villages - Wednesday, May 26, 2021

Northern Villages – Thursday, May 27, 2021

For more information, contact Trina Cruz at (671) 648-8402 or trina.cruz@akguam.com

-30-

About Atkins Kroll, Inc.: Atkins Kroll, an Inchcape company, is the leading distributor of vehicles in Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands and Micronesia enabling it to provide a full range of products and services in the region. Atkins Kroll is Guam's oldest corporation established in 1914 and represents Toyota, Lexus, BMW, Chevrolet, Toyota Rent A Car, ACE Rent a Car, and AC Delco brands.