This project is in collaboration with Holy Name Cathedral, Old St. Mary's Parish, St. Clement Parish, and St. Josaphat Parish.

Author Bryan Massingale has been actively involved in church-based social justice movements and ministries. Racial Justice and the Catholic Church seeks to analyze U.S. American Catholic social thought on racism in both its strengths and weaknesses and to discover how Catholic teaching and ethical reflection can be enriched by the contribution of the African American experience. Seeking to overcome the obstacles of ignorance and the fear of discussing race, the question that animates Massingale's analysis is "How can we struggle together against an evil that harms us all, though in different ways?"
