CELEBRATING 175 YEARS OF MERCY IN THE U.S.

Throughout 2018, the Sisters of Mercy have been commemorating and celebrating the 175th anniversary of the arrival of the Sisters of Mercy in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and the beginning of a vibrant legacy of service in the United States. That legacy continues today in numerous and diverse ministries, in hospitals, in universities and high schools, in parishes, in shelters and in immigrant detention centers, adhering always to the Mercy vow to serve people who are poor, sick and uneducated. Recently, Merion Mercy celebrated this anniversary through a school-wide initiative of 175 ways of giving. Student Council organized this giving effort and is collecting 175 (each per grade) canned goods, boxes of crayons, socks, and vitamins for those in need.

French International School Students Offer Candleholders, Sympathy to Neighbors at LM Synagogue after Pittsburgh Tragedy

Following the tragic events at the Tree of Life Synagogue in Pittsburgh on October 27, students at the French International School of Philadelphia showed their solidarity with their neighbors at Lower Merion Synagogue by presenting the congregation's leadership with 11 small candleholders, one for each of the Pittsburgh victims. The candleholders were hand-decorated by children in the school's aftercare program.

In a message to the school community, Head of School Kathy Kotchick said: "We are thinking about all of those in Pittsburgh and those who have family and friends affected by the horrendous tragedy there. We will continue to focus on teaching and modeling kindness in our welcoming, loving, accepting school and are here to support all of our Jewish families in this trying time."

Located in Bala Cynwyd, PA, the French International School of Philadelphia is an independent pre-kindergarten through eighth grade school serving a multicultural community and offering a comprehensive bilingual curriculum in French and English. Accredited by both the French Ministry of Education and the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, the school expects its students to become global citizens with a deeper understanding of and appreciation for other cultures.
