Whitewater Arts Alliance Presents UW-Whitewater Collaboration Show

(WHITEWATER - October 8) For the month of October, the Whitewater Arts Alliance will be hosting a hybrid gallery and virtual exhibition on the WAA website, whitewaterarts.org, of work created by staff, faculty, students, and alumni of the Department of Art and Design. This hybrid exhibition will be on display virtually October 8th-31st, and in-gallery Friday through Sunday, 2-4pm. At this time, the City of Whitewater asks that all individuals wear a mask in the Cultural Arts Center regardless of vaccination status.

This exhibition helps to connect artists in Whitewater and display the talents from a variety of ages and skill levels. This show displays work from 8 artists with a total of 21 pieces, with a range in two-dimensional mediums including graphite, charcoal, ink, printed digital art, and three-dimensional pieces including ceramic and metal. The show features an award-winning piece by UW-Whitewater alumni Skylar J Gabel.

Some pieces in this show are haunting in nature to complement Whitewater's first Storytelling festival on October 16th. Some audiences may find the content of some work disturbing. Viewer discretion is advised.
