GET READY FOR THE 2025 SUMMER GUIDE!

Spring has sprung and we are gearing up to publish our most anticipated and popular publication of the year – the SUMMER GUIDE 2025!

The Guide is free, mailed to all Hull households in June, and thousands of extra copies are printed and distributed all over town from June through the fall, for easy pick-up and a long shelf life. This publication is on every Hullonian's coffee table! Seasonal renters and those vacationing for a weekend in Hull need to know how to navigate the community, and they rely on the Summer Guide to show them the way!

The Guide is full of detailed information about upcoming events, special offers from the business community, great stories about Hull from our talented reporters, and of course, it's all supported by our loyal advertisers. The Guide lands in the hands of thousands of residents and visitors alike looking for fun events, restaurants, family-friendly activities, local information, shopping options, and what to do when.

If you are a local business, restaurant, or service provider, you need to be a part of this annual tradition! If you are a non-profit community organization, your events need to be part of the calendar of events! We'll be reaching out to potential advertisers in the coming weeks to share all the details. But of course, prime space is limited, so you can reserve your spot now by contacting our sales department today – either contact Tom at 781-925-1515 or email office@hulltimes.com. We'll be gathering information on calendar items and features as we get closer to publication.

We are looking forward to a great summer in Hull and hope to partner with you to boost your business this season with prominent placement in the Summer Guide!

Sincerely,
The Hull Times
